Senate Votes 78-11 To Cut Income Tax

GOP Confident Expected Veto Will Be Upset

House Okay Of 4.8 Billion Slash Seen

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—The Senate voted 78 to 11 today to cut income taxes $4,800,000,000. The overwhelming vote was far more than enough to override a veto—if the lineup remains unchanged.

Thirty Democrats joined 48 Republicans in balloting for the GOP-backed measure. No Republicans voted against it. Eleven Democrats did.

The bill now goes back to the House, which voted 297 to 120 on February 2 for a $6,500,000,000 tax slash.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee has predicted the House will skip the usual conference on deferring bills and accept the smaller Senate figure. The only material difference between the measures is in the percentage of cuts at various income levels.

The House expects to act Wednesday. If it takes the $4,800,000,000 Senate version, the next move would be up to President Truman.

Republican Strategy

The Chief Executive has made it pretty clear he would veto tax bills like those passed by the Senate and House.

Republican leaders lined up behind the smaller figure. They hope the strategy will pay off in enough Democratic votes to override a veto and several such votes showed up in debate today. A two-thirds majority in both the Senate and House is required to override.

The Republicans rolled up their two-thirds margin in the Senate with 18 votes to spare. The House had a 19-vote cushion when it passed its bill.

GOP leaders expressed confidence the margin would hold in both houses.

But Democratic foes of the bill are counting on Mr. Truman to write a veto message which they hope would cause some present supporters of tax reduction to change their minds.

They look for the President to say it would be unwise to cut government revenues at a time when, he contends, world conditions may make it necessary to spend extra billions to make America strong militarily.

Pepper Helps GOP

They got help from Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) who proposed that the top levy on an individual's income be cut from 70 to 50 per cent. He said the idea was to stimulate private enterprise.

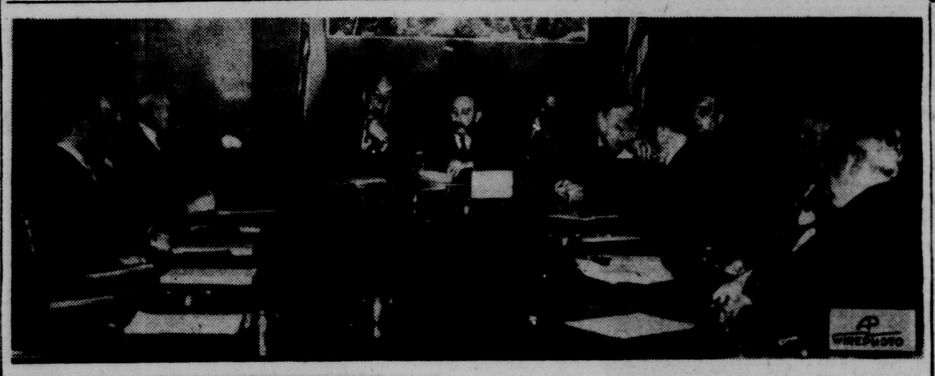

Several senators in today's debate suggested that any cut might not last long.

Thirteen amendments were batted down before the final vote.

Just before the Senate turned to voting on amendments, Sen. Connally (D-Tex) made an impassioned appeal for defeat of the tax-cutting bill. Sen. Milikin (R-Colo), floor manager for the measure, urged that it be passed.

Lewis Given Until Noon To Act

UMW Leader's Aides Opposed To Peace Offer

Operators Accept Proposal By Ching

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—John L. Lewis' representatives tonight tentatively rejected a government proposal for ending the soft coal shutdown.

The door was left open, however, for Lewis himself to act on a peace offer made by Conciliation Director Cyrus S. Ching, before noon tomorrow.

Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, stayed away from today's discussions. They were joined in by eight operators.

The coal operators accepted "reluctantly" the Ching proposal for a fact-finding board chosen by the miners and operators. They said they did so in order to get their mines in operation again.

The terms of miner pensions is the issue.

Rejection Means Court Action

Should Lewis formally turn down Ching's suggestion tonight or tomorrow, the conciliation chief told reporters:

"The next step will be to report that fact to the White House."

The national emergency machinery of the Taft-Hartley Act presumably then would be put in motion by President Truman. That consists of appointment of a board of inquiry, followed by an appeal to a federal district court for an injunction to halt the mine walkout.

The miners were represented at the three and a half hour conference by three lieutenants of Lewis. They said they would recommend rejection, but promised Ching to present the whole proposition to their associates.

Ching said they promised an answer before noon tomorrow.

He said if he did not hear from Lewis by 12 tomorrow he would assume that the UMW president was turning thumbs down on his peace offer.

The proposal is to set up the following procedure as a basis for resumption of coal mining and settlement of the dispute:

"(1) The United Mine Workers of America will undertake to do everything in its power to induce the miners immediately to resume work.

Findings Not Binding

"(2) Upon the resumption of work the parties will immediately get together for the purpose of agreeing on the membership of a three-man fact-finding board to report to the operators, the United Mine Workers, and the board of (pension fund) trustees on all of the issues which

Debate On Aid Bill Will Begin In House Today

Senate Committee Favors Draft, UMT

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP) — The drive to mobilize money and manpower in an effort to discourage Soviet expansion gained headway in both houses of Congress today.

Warned that the danger of World War III "is not very remote," the House Rules Committee cleared the way for debate starting tomorrow on a $6,205,000,000 program of economic and military aid to non-Communist countries.

And at least 10 of the 13 members of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Chairman Gurney (R-SD) reported, are convinced there is an "absolute necessity for quick passage" of a draft law and universal military training.

President Truman called for all three — foreign aid, a temporary draft and UMT — in his address to Congress last Wednesday.

Gurney reported his committee's sentiments after a closed door meeting with Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Secretary of the Army Royall.

Roberts Charges Red Trick

The secret talks with the defense chiefs closed out a day in which the committee heard:

1. Testimony from former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts that America fell for a Communist trick when it sped postwar demobilization, and that the same forces which engineered that coup are the "organized core" of opposition to UMT now.

2. A statement from Dr. Karl Compton that UMT is freedom insurance and a draft is an urgent need to protect us until the policy goes into force.

The House Rules Committee already had ordered the curtain rung up on the foreign aid debate. There will be 15 hours of it on the aid bill as a whole. It will begin shortly after noon tomorrow.

Amendments to the far-ranging measure — which adds military and economic aid to Greece, Turkey and China to the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program — will be taken up next week.

House leaders predicted final action shortly after April 1, with prospects bright for early agreement with the Senate on differing foreign aid provisions.

The war warning was given by Chairman Eaton (R-NJ), of the Foreign Affairs Committee. He told the rules body that the Russians are on the march against the West. And he added:

"They won't stop until they come up against an economic force — military, if necessary — that will stop them."

House Approves Advance

Action to provide such a force — military as well as economic—came quickly on two other congressional fronts:

1—The House passed a bill providing a $55,000,000 advance to France, Italy and Austria to tide them over until the European recovery program can get going. The measure now goes to the Senate.

2—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee recommended $463,000,000 for China — $100,000,000 of its to be used for weapons or other military purposes at the option of China's anti-Communist government.

All this tied in with the $6,205,000,000 House bill, which includes:

$5,300,000,000 for the European recovery program — one of the three sections of President Truman's

140 Slain As Palestine Fighting Hits New Peak

Four British Soldiers And Constable Killed

JERUSALEM, March 22 (AP)—The bloodiest 24 hours of fighting in Palestine's current reign of violence tonight left 140 dead, including four British soldiers and a British constable.

The British used artillery in attempts to stem the rising tide of civil war. Their shells blasted Ishwa village, Arab headquarters in Hartuv. The Arab press reported 60 killed and 100 wounded there. A British officer said 23 bodies were counted. Four British soldiers were killed in the action.

Another bloody spot was Nizanim, near the Mediterranean coast in the land of the ancient Philistines. There, 20 Jews and 31 Arabs were reported killed in two pitched battles.

Three-way fighting described by observers as the "heaviest since partition" still raged in battered Haifa. Six Arabs and a British constable were killed there. British tank guns dispersed Arabs threatening a Jewish transport.

An explosion wrecked the thickly-populated Iraq street in the center of the Arab section of Haifa. Police attributed the attack to Jews. The blast touched off a bitter Arab-Jewish battle.

A truck loaded with explosives penetrated the Arab section and blew up. Jewish sources said the truck was driven by two members of the Stern Gang who escaped before the blast. Observers expressed the belief the blast was the Jewish answer to the truck bombing last month of Ben Yehuda Street in the center of Jerusalem.

Police reports said five Arabs died in the Haifa explosion and 31 were injured. Eight houses were destroyed.

Arab mortars immediately began bombarding the neighboring Jewish business center. A British constable was killed and another injured when a mortar shell exploded near the police headquarters.

In an attempt to halt the developing battle British troops fired at Jews and Arabs alike. Sniping broke out throughout the city. An Associated Press correspondent telephoned that squads from Haganah, the Jewish militia, were roaming the streets challenging Arabs gathered in coffee houses.

Arab press reports said 60 Arabs were killed and 100 wounded by British shells during the fighting at Hartuv.

A Haganah source said the Arabs were repulsed twice there this morning and last night. During the afternoon the Arabs resumed the attack. The Arabs were well armed and were wearing steel helmets and khaki uniforms.

Negro Who Beat Son To Death Is Saved From Mob

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 22 (AP) — A husky, six-foot negro railroad shop laborer was rescued from a mob of negroes today shortly after, police charged, he lashed his 11-year-old son to death.

Richard (Columbia) County Coroner William A. Plott said a threatening crowd of more of more than 200 negroes had gathered outside the home of Thomas Andrew White, 34.

"Only the arrival of the police cars averted mob action against White," Plott said.

"He wouldn't tell me the truth," police quoted White as saying, about a one dollar bill the boy had collected yesterday. "I beat him and he wouldn't tell me."

Eastern Floods Force Hundreds To Leave Homes

CHICAGO, March 22 (AP)—Flood waters drove hundreds of persons from their homes in the Susquehanna Valley today when heavy rain combined with melting snow and ice to overload streams.

One man was drowned in his home at Vestal in South Central New York State when he attempted to salvage household goods. The eastern flood spread out over thousands of acres in the Binghamton, N. Y., area and many residential sections were covered by six to eight feet of water.

As the high water crest moved southward into Northeastern Pennsylvania, the Federal State Forecasting Service withdrew warnings of serious flooding in the Wilkes-Barre section. The crest at Wilkes-Barre and Towanda is expected to be about six feet above flood level, unless there is additional rain during the next 36 hours.

Cleveland, O., was deluged yesterday and early today by a torrential rain which turned many streets into canals and drowned animals in the city zoo. Damage was estimated at $500,000 as power service and transportation was disrupted by the 2.76 inch rain.

The Weather Bureau said that most of the rainfall tonight and Tuesday would come in the Lower Ohio River Valley. Some rain was predicted for another major flood area—Eastern Iowa, where the Des Moines river has been out of its banks.

At Quincy, Ill., where the Mississippi River crest was expected to reach 21.6 feet—about seven feet above flood stage—tomorrow, volunteer workers toiled to strengthen a threatened levee district dam to prevent flooding of 6,000 acres of wheat land.

There were local floods in Lower Michigan, near Meadville in Northwestern Pennsylvania where a three-inch rain last night inundated at least five communities, and in Vermont.

Britain Declares Red Tide 'Must Be Dammed Back'

Papanek Asks U.N. To Deal With USSR

LAKE SUCCESS, March 22 (AP) — Britain told the United Nations Security Council today that the tide of Communism must be "dammed back" even at the risk of war.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, one of Winston Churchill's top aides in the war years, blamed Russia directly for the Communist grab in Czechoslovakia.

Cadogan said it was the same familiar pattern which had swept Romania, Bulgaria, Albania, Hungary and Poland into the Soviet sphere.

Tide "Must Be Dammed Back"

"There are limits beyond which this tide must not advance, and it must be dammed back," Cadogan said solemnly. "Almost every one in the world must hope fervently that this can be done by peaceful means, but trere is an undeniable risk that hope may not be fulfilled."

The British delegate addressed the council after Jan Papanek, anti-Communist Czechoslovak delegate fired by the new Prague regime, made an ardent appeal for United Nations action against Russia.

Declaring he had direct evidence that Moscow engineered the coup, Papanek said with emotion: "God help me, I shall prove this to you."

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko never moved throughout the long speeches by Cadogan and Papanek, whom Gromyko calls a traitor to the Czechoslovak people. Gromyko and Papanek sat side by side at the table but avoided looking at each other.

Says Benes Isn't Free Man

Papanek told the council that direct pressure from Prime Minister Stalin himself forced Czechoslovakia to reverse the decision to participate in the Marshall Plan conference in Paris.

"I reject any suggestion that President Benes is a free man," Papanek said. He contended the President would have resigned if he were free.

Papanek said persons now in Germany and en route to London were ready to give the council direct evidence that Russia carried out the grab in Prague.

Cadogan said that since the inauguration of the Marshall Plan, "Moscow seems to have given orders to increase the pace."

Carole Sues For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 22. (AP)—Carole Landis, of the movies, today sued Theatrical Producer Horace Schmidlapp for divorce, alleging extreme mental cruelty. She asked for division of community property which she estimated was "of great value."

Clay Says Yanks Intend To Remain In Berlin

BERLIN, March 22 (AP)—Americans intend to stay in Berlin, Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today. This was the United States military governor's blunt response to a Russian boycott which virtually halted four-power government of Germany.

The boycott was accompanied by renewed suggestions in Russian-controlled newspapers that the Western Powers get out of town. Clay said in an interview:

"We are in Berlin by agreement, just as the Russians are in Saxony and Thuringia (territory conquered by American troops) by agreement. We intend to stay."

Although there were no official statements it was known the British and French also are equally firm in their determination to ride out the four-power occupation of Berlin.

Venezia Giulia Patrol, Yugos Exchange Fire

Moscow Radio Reports Greeks Use Poison Gas

LONDON, Tuesday, March 23. (AP)—The Moscow radio, quoting the Communist "free Greece radio," said today American officers were responsible for the use of poison gas by Greek government soldiers against guerrillas.

The broadcast quoted the guerrilla radio as saying government troops used poison gas in the Castoria area of Greece March 15. Castoria is in Western Greek Macedonia.

(In Washington, a member of the staff of Secretary of Defense Forrestal described the Moscow report as "nonsense.")

Trieste-For-Gorizia Exchange Proposed

ROME, March 22 (AP)—The American Military Government in Trieste announced tonight that shots had been exchanged at the tense border separating the Yugoslav from the United States-British zones of the Trieste Free Territory.

The incident involved police patrols in two zones. One policeman was wounded. He was an Italian member of a civil patrol on the British-American side of the line.

Announcement of the outbreak came as the Italian government accepted with satisfaction the Western Powers' proposal to return the entire 400-square mile Free Territory at the head of the Adriatic to Italy.

Meanwhile, Yugoslavia's Foreign Minister said his government is willing to consider giving the city of Trieste itself to Italy provided Yugoslavia gets Gorizia, an Italian town north of the great port.

Rejection Anticipated

Such an exchange was proposed before the Italian peace treaty was signed. Premier Alcide De Gasperi said Sunday in a political speech, possibly anticipating a renewal of the offer, that "we could not accept Trieste for Gorizia."

De Gasperi and Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza were traveling tonight and were unavailable for comment on the Yugoslav statement. Foreign Ministry officials declined to comment.

The fate of Trieste has become an issue in Italy's crucial parliamentary election of April 18—an election being fought out on the issue of Communism.

Because the original Trieste proposal came last Saturday from the United States, Britain and France it was believed to have boosted the strength of Italy's anti-Communist parties. Italian sources have suggested that the Western Powers beat Russia to the draw on announcing the plan.

Italian Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza, in a speech at Turin, accused Yugoslavia of effecting a disguised annexation of the portion of the Trieste Free Territory occupied by Yugoslav troops. He said Italy had kept silent about this "only for the love of peace and only in the hope things would be changed for the better."

Italians Without Newspapers

Italians were deprived of newspaper accounts of the Trieste developments by a nationwide printers strike called by a Communist-led union. The walkout began last midnight. It was announced tonight that it would continue indefinitely forcing 150 daily newspapers to remain closed.

Arms Alone Can't Halt Communism, Jurist Declares

GAINESVILLE, Fla., March 22 (AP) —Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said tonight that Communism cannot be defeated by military might alone.

And this country will "fail miserably," he said, if it fashions its policies "merely in terms of anti-Communism."

Asserting that "the prospects for peace appear gloomy," Douglas called, in a speech prepared for delivery at the University of Florida, for "dynamic and vital" democratic leadership.

The jurist, mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for Vice-President, said we must foster "human rights" at home and "liberal, humanitarian programs for the masses of the people of the world."

He said a political program like Communism "is not destroyed by military might unless the victor, like the Communists, is willing to install a police state."

"If we want hundreds of millions of the peoples of the world in the democratic ranks," Douglas said, "we must show them the way with practical programs of social reconstruction."

The real victory over Communism, he said, "will be won in the rice fields rather than on the battle fields."

"At home," Douglas said, "we must put an end to the shameful practice of branding everyone a Communist who espouses a liberal reform or promotes a program for the underprivileged."

Dr. Nat Frame, One Of 4-H Club Founders, Succumbs

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., March 22. (AP)——Dr. Nat T. Frame, one of the founders of the 4-H Club organization for rural boys and girls, died of a heart attack today. He was 71.

Dr. Frame returned from an automobile ride complaining of exhaustion. He collapsed and died a short time later.

He retired here a little more than a year ago after a long career devoted largely to the development of rural community life.

From 1919 until 1933 he was director of agricultural extension at West Virginia University. He left that post to become educational supervisor for the Civilian Conservation Corps in the Army's Fifth Corps area with headquarters at Columbus, O.

Major Provisions Of Two Income Tax-Cutting Bills

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Here are the major provisions of the $4,800,000,000 income taxe-cutting bill passed today by the Senate — and of the previously passed House bill to reduce taxes $6,500,000,000:

The Senate bill provides for percentage tax cuts of 12.6 per cent for persons with incomes of $2,000 or less; on income of $2,000 to $136,719, a cut of 12.6 on the first $2,000 and 7.4 per cent on the rest; an income over $136,719, a cut of 12.6 per cent on the first $2,000, 7.4 per cent on the next $134,700 and five per cent on the rest.

The range of the House bill percentage reductions is 30 per cent on incomes up to $1,000; 30 to 20 per cent between $1,000 and $1,395; 20 per cent between $1,395 and $4,000; and—over $4,000-20 per cent on the first $4,000 and 10 per cent on the rest.

In all cases these deductions are applied to income after deductions and exemptions.

The Senate bill gives 70.5 per cent of its $4,800,000,000 tax relief to persons making less than $5,000, after deductions but before exemptions.

Under the House bill, 71.81 per cent of the $6,500,000,000 relief would go to those earning less than $4,000, after deductions but before exemptions.

Under both bills:

1. The cut would be effective as of last January 1.

2. The personal exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent would be increased—from $500 to $600.

3. Husbands and wives in all states could split their incomes for tax purposes.

4. The maximum standard deduction for contributions, medical and certain other expenses would be increased to $1,000.

Britain Asked To Revive Air Raid Shelter Policy

LONDON, March 22. (AP) — The government was asked in the House of Commons tonight to bring its wartime air raid shelter policy up to date for use at short notice.

Sir John Anderson, for whom the backyard "Anderson shelter" was named during the war when he was Minister of Home Security, asked for its revival.

Russia Is Reported Buying Tons Of Possible War Materiel In U. S.

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Two New York newspapers said today Russia has been purchasing huge quantities of possible war material in America for shipment to the Soviet Union.

Several shiploads already have gone to Russia, the papers said.

The Journal-American said in a copyright story it had learned that:

"Agents for the Amtorg Trading Corporation, the official Russian purchasing commission in this country, have been, and still are, swarming over the country buying new and used bomber engines and transport and cargo plane components which were scrapped as junk by the War Assets Administration and the armed services.

"Russian agents have bought and are still buying engines and parts for B-17s, B-24s, C-46s, C-47s and for heavier craft as well as fighter planes at depots in Texas, Arkansas, Arizona, California, New York and even in Washington, D. C.

The World-Telegram said that thousands of tons of material that could be used in war production plants are being loaded on Russian freighters in American ports and transported to the Soviet Union.

"Much in the manner in which Japanese freighters gathered every bit of available scrap before the war, the Russian vessels are cruising from port to port along the eastern and southern coastlines picking up machinery, metals and parts wherever available."

Meanwhile, in Jersey City, N. J., AFL longshoremen today refused to cross a picket line established by veterans in front of a pier where the Russian freighter Chukokta was being loaded with machinery.

The picket line was formed yesterday by 25 members of the Hud-

Convicted Slayer Kept From Hanging Himself

BALTIMORE, March 22. — (AP) — Roy Arnold Wood, who faced death or life imprisonment for slaying a Baltimore policeman, was held in a strait jacket at City Jail today after the warden reported an attempt at suicide.

Warden Charles P. Price said the 24-year-old gunman was "just getting ready to hang himself."

The young bricklayer, who came to Baltimore from Whitehall, in neighboring Harford County, was convicted of shooting Patrolman Joseph D. Benedict on February 13 as the officer was investigating a taxicab holdup.

Navy Denies U.S. Warships In Mid-East Have A-Bombs

LINCOLN, Neb., March 22 (AP)—Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) said today "most of our fleet is in the Mediterranean" and "some of the ships are properly equipped with atomic bombs."

Miller spoke at a Nebraska Republican Founders' Day luncheon.

"It is my opinion that if Tito starts a drive on Trieste or into Northern Italy or the Russians try to push us out of Germany, we would see atomic bombs dropped inside of 48 hours. And I would so recommend it," Miller said.

(The Navy said in Washington: "Rep. Miller must be misinformed. The Navy has only 14 combatant ships in the Mediterranean and none of them carries an atomic bomb.")

"Most of the aircraft carriers are there," the congressman said in reference to the United States fleet. "Three battleships are near Trieste in command of the situation there."

The Congressman described Washington as "in a constant state of jitters due to a daily hypodermic of fear serum."

The American people crave for integrity and a spiritual leadership —for someone who will serve notice on Joe Stalin to stop his Communist aggression," Miller declared.

The secret talks with the defense chiefs closed out a day in which the committee heard:

1. Testimony from former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts that America fell for a Communist trick when it sped postwar demobilization, and that the same forces which engineered that coup are the "organized core" of opposition to UMT now.

2. A statement from Dr. Karl Compton that UMT is freedom insurance and a draft is an urgent need to protect us until the policy goes into force.

The House Rules Committee already had ordered the curtain rung up on the foreign aid debate. There will be 15 hours of it on the aid bill as a whole. It will begin shortly after noon tomorrow.

Amendments to the far-ranging measure — which adds military and economic aid to Greece, Turkey and China to the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program — will be taken up next week.

House leaders predicted final action shortly after April 1, with prospects bright for early agreement with the Senate on differing foreign aid provisions.

The war warning was given by Chairman Eaton (R-NJ), of the Foreign Affairs Committee. He told the rules body that the Russians are on the march against the West. And he added:

"They won't stop until they come up against an economic force — military, if necessary — that will stop them."

House Approves Advance

Action to provide such a force — military as well as economic—came quickly on two other congressional fronts:

1—The House passed a bill providing a $55,000,000 advance to France, Italy and Austria to tide them over until the European recovery program can get going. The measure now goes to the Senate.

2—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee recommended $463,000,000 for China — $100,000,000 of its to be used for weapons or other military purposes at the option of China's anti-Communist government.

All this tied in with the $6,205,000,000 House bill, which includes: $5,300,000,000 for the European recovery program — one of the three sections of President Truman's

140 Slain As Palestine Fighting Hits New Peak

Four British Soldiers And Constable Killed

JERUSALEM, March 22 (AP)—The bloodiest 24 hours of fighting in Palestine's current reign of violence tonight left 140 dead, including four British soldiers and a British constable.

The British used artillery in attempts to stem the rising tide of civil war. Their shells blasted Ishwa village, Arab headquarters in Hartuv. The Arab press reported 60 killed and 100 wounded there. A British officer said 23 bodies were counted. Four British soldiers were killed in the action.

Another bloody spot was Nizanim, near the Mediterranean coast in the land of the ancient Philistines. There, 20 Jews and 31 Arabs were reported killed in two pitched battles.

Three-way fighting described by observers as the "heaviest since partition" still raged in battered Haifa. Six Arabs and a British constable were killed there. British tank guns dispersed Arabs threatening a Jewish transport.

An explosion wrecked the thickly-populated Iraq street in the center of the Arab section of Haifa. Police attributed the attack to Jews. The blast touched off a bitter Arab-Jewish battle.

A truck loaded with explosives penetrated the Arab section and blew up. Jewish sources said the truck was driven by two members of the Stern Gang who escaped before the blast. Observers expressed the belief the blast was the Jewish answer to the truck bombing last month of Ben Yehuda Street in the center of Jerusalem.

Police reports said five Arabs died in the Haifa explosion and 31 were injured. Eight houses were destroyed.

Arab mortars immediately began bombarding the neighboring Jewish business center. A British constable was killed and another injured when a mortar shell exploded near the police headquarters.

In an attempt to halt the developing battle British troops fired at Jews and Arabs alike. Sniping broke out throughout the city. An Associated Press correspondent telephoned that squads from Haganah, the Jewish militia, were roaming the streets challenging Arabs gathered in coffee houses.

Arab press reports said 60 Arabs were killed and 100 wounded by British shells during the fighting at Hartuv.

A Haganah source said the Arabs were repulsed twice there this morning and last night. During the afternoon the Arabs resumed the attack. The Arabs were well armed and were wearing steel helmets and khaki uniforms.

Negro Who Beat Son To Death Is Saved From Mob

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 22 (AP) — A husky, six-foot negro railroad shop laborer was rescued from a mob of negroes today shortly after, police charged, he lashed his 11-year-old son to death.

Richard (Columbia) County Coroner William A. Plott said a threatening crowd of more of more than 200 negroes had gathered outside the home of Thomas Andrew White, 34.

"Only the arrival of the police cars averted mob action against White," Plott said.

"He wouldn't tell me the truth," police quoted White as saying, about a one dollar bill the boy had collected yesterday. "I beat him and he wouldn't tell me."

Eastern Floods Force Hundreds To Leave Homes

CHICAGO, March 22 (AP)—Flood waters drove hundreds of persons from their homes in the Susquehanna Valley today when heavy rain combined with melting snow and ice to overload streams.

One man was drowned in his home at Vestal in South Central New York State when he attempted to salvage household goods. The eastern flood spread out over thousands of acres in the Binghamton, N. Y., area and many residential sections were covered by six to eight feet of water.

As the high water crest moved southward into Northeastern Pennsylvania, the Federal State Forecasting Service withdrew warnings of serious flooding in the Wilkes-Barre section. The crest at Wilkes-Barre and Towanda is expected to be about six feet above flood level, unless there is additional rain during the next 36 hours.

Cleveland, O., was deluged yesterday and early today by a torrential rain which turned many streets into canals and drowned animals in the city zoo. Damage was estimated at $500,000 as power service and transportation was disrupted by the 2.76 inch rain.

The Weather Bureau said that most of the rainfall tonight and Tuesday would come in the Lower Ohio River Valley. Some rain was predicted for another major flood area—Eastern Iowa, where the Des Moines river has been out of its banks.

At Quincy, Ill., where the Mississippi River crest was expected to reach 21.6 feet—about seven feet above flood stage—tomorrow, volunteer workers toiled to strengthen a threatened levee district dam to prevent flooding of 6,000 acres of wheat land.

There were local floods in Lower Michigan, near Meadville in Northwestern Pennsylvania where a three-inch rain last night inundated at least five communities, and in Vermont.

Britain Declares Red Tide 'Must Be Dammed Back'

Papanek Asks U.N. To Deal With USSR

LAKE SUCCESS, March 22 (AP) — Britain told the United Nations Security Council today that the tide of Communism must be "dammed back" even at the risk of war.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, one of Winston Churchill's top aides in the war years, blamed Russia directly for the Communist grab in Czechoslovakia.

Cadogan said it was the same familiar pattern which had swept Romania, Bulgaria, Albania, Hungary and Poland into the Soviet sphere.

Tide "Must Be Dammed Back"

"There are limits beyond which this tide must not advance, and it must be dammed back," Cadogan said solemnly. "Almost every one in the world must hope fervently that this can be done by peaceful means, but trere is an undeniable risk that hope may not be fulfilled."

The British delegate addressed the council after Jan Papanek, anti-Communist Czechoslovak delegate fired by the new Prague regime, made an ardent appeal for United Nations action against Russia.

Declaring he had direct evidence that Moscow engineered the coup, Papanek said with emotion: "God help me, I shall prove this to you."

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko never moved throughout the long speeches by Cadogan and Papanek, whom Gromyko calls a traitor to the Czechoslovak people. Gromyko and Papanek sat side by side at the table but avoided looking at each other.

Says Benes Isn't Free Man

Papanek told the council that direct pressure from Prime Minister Stalin himself forced Czechoslovakia to reverse the decision to participate in the Marshall Plan conference in Paris.

"I reject any suggestion that President Benes is a free man," Papanek said. He contended the President would have resigned if he were free.

Papanek said persons now in Germany and en route to London were ready to give the council direct evidence that Russia carried out the grab in Prague.

Cadogan said that since the inauguration of the Marshall Plan, "Moscow seems to have given orders to increase the pace."

Carole Sues For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 22. (AP)—Carole Landis, of the movies, today sued Theatrical Producer Horace Schmidlapp for divorce, alleging extreme mental cruelty. She asked for division of community property which she estimated was "of great value."

Clay Says Yanks Intend To Remain In Berlin

BERLIN, March 22 (AP)—Americans intend to stay in Berlin, Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today. This was the United States military governor's blunt response to a Russian boycott which virtually halted four-power government of Germany.

The boycott was accompanied by renewed suggestions in Russian-controlled newspapers that the Western Powers get out of town. Clay said in an interview:

"We are in Berlin by agreement, just as the Russians are in Saxony and Thuringia (territory conquered by American troops) by agreement. We intend to stay."

Although there were no official statements it was known the British and French also are equally firm in their determination to ride out the four-power occupation of Berlin.

Venezia Giulia Patrol, Yugos Exchange Fire

Moscow Radio Reports Greeks Use Poison Gas

LONDON, Tuesday, March 23. (AP)—The Moscow radio, quoting the Communist "free Greece radio," said today American officers were responsible for the use of poison gas by Greek government soldiers against guerrillas.

The broadcast quoted the guerrilla radio as saying government troops used poison gas in the Castoria area of Greece March 15. Castoria is in Western Greek Macedonia.

(In Washington, a member of the staff of Secretary of Defense Forrestal described the Moscow report as "nonsense.")

Trieste-For-Gorizia Exchange Proposed

ROME, March 22 (AP)—The American Military Government in Trieste announced tonight that shots had been exchanged at the tense border separating the Yugoslav from the United States-British zones of the Trieste Free Territory.

The incident involved police patrols in two zones. One policeman was wounded. He was an Italian member of a civil patrol on the British-American side of the line.

Announcement of the outbreak came as the Italian government accepted with satisfaction the Western Powers' proposal to return the entire 400-square mile Free Territory at the head of the Adriatic to Italy.

Meanwhile, Yugoslavia's Foreign Minister said his government is willing to consider giving the city of Trieste itself to Italy provided Yugoslavia gets Gorizia, an Italian town north of the great port.

Rejection Anticipated

Such an exchange was proposed before the Italian peace treaty was signed. Premier Alcide De Gasperi said Sunday in a political speech, possibly anticipating a renewal of the offer, that "we could not accept Trieste for Gorizia."

De Gasperi and Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza were traveling tonight and were unavailable for comment on the Yugoslav statement. Foreign Ministry officials declined to comment.

The fate of Trieste has become an issue in Italy's crucial parliamentary election of April 18—an election being fought out on the issue of Communism.

Because the original Trieste proposal came last Saturday from the United States, Britain and France it was believed to have boosted the strength of Italy's anti-Communist parties. Italian sources have suggested that the Western Powers beat Russia to the draw on announcing the plan.

Italian Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza, in a speech at Turin, accused Yugoslavia of effecting a disguised annexation of the portion of the Trieste Free Territory occupied by Yugoslav troops. He said Italy had kept silent about this "only for the love of peace and only in the hope things would be changed for the better."

Italians Without Newspapers

Italians were deprived of newspaper accounts of the Trieste developments by a nationwide printers strike called by a Communist-led union. The walkout began last midnight. It was announced tonight that it would continue indefinitely forcing 150 daily newspapers to remain closed.

Arms Alone Can't Halt Communism, Jurist Declares

GAINESVILLE, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said tonight that Communism cannot be defeated by military might alone.

And this country will "fail miserably," he said, if it fashions its policies "merely in terms of anti-Communism."

Asserting that "the prospects for peace appear gloomy," Douglas called, in a speech prepared for delivery at the University of Florida, for "dynamic and vital" democratic leadership.

The jurist, mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for Vice-President, said we must foster "human rights" at home and "liberal, humanitarian programs for the masses of the people of the world."

He said a political program like Communism "is not destroyed by military might unless the victor, like the Communists, is willing to install a police state."

"If we want hundreds of millions of the peoples of the world in the democratic ranks," Douglas said, "we must show them the way with practical programs of social reconstruction."

The real victory over Communism, he said, "will be won in the rice fields rather than on the battle fields."

"At home," Douglas said, "we must put an end to the shameful practice of branding everyone a Communist who espouses a liberal reform or promotes a program for the underprivileged."

Convicted Slayer Kept From Hanging Himself

BALTIMORE, March 22. — (AP) — Roy Arnold Wood, who faced death or life imprisonment for slaying a Baltimore policeman, was held in a strait jacket at City Jail today after the warden reported an attempt at suicide.

Warden Charles P. Price said the 24-year-old gunman was "just getting ready to hang himself."

The young bricklayer, who came to Baltimore from Whitehall, in neighboring Harford County, was convicted of shooting Patrolman Joseph D. Benedict on February 13 as the officer was investigating a taxicab holdup.

Dr. Nat Frame, One Of 4-H Club Founders, Succumbs

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., March 22. (AP)——Dr. Nat T. Frame, one of the founders of the 4-H Club organization for rural boys and girls, died of a heart attack today. He was 71.

Dr. Frame returned from an automobile ride complaining of exhaustion. He collapsed and died a short time later.

He retired here a little more than a year ago after a long career devoted largely to the development of rural community life.

From 1919 until 1933 he was director of agricultural extension at West Virginia University. He left that post to become educational supervisor for the Civilian Conservation Corps in the Army's Fifth Corps area with headquarters at Columbus, O.

One Killed In Explosion And Fire At Baltimore

BALTIMORE, March 22 (AP)—At least one man was killed and two others hurt tonight when a series of explosions and fire destroyed the Baltimore Paint and Color Works.

The man killed was struck by a falling wall while watching firemen battled the seven-alarm blaze. Police said they were afraid another man had been struck by the wall.

More than 20 explosions rocked a mile square area of Southwest Baltimore.

About 35 families were evacuated from their homes by police and firemen.

Major Provisions Of Two Income Tax-Cutting Bills

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Here are the major provisions of the $4,800,000,000 income taxe-cutting bill passed today by the Senate — and of the previously passed House bill to reduce taxes $6,500,000,000:

The Senate bill provides for percentage tax cuts of 12.6 per cent for persons with incomes of $2,000 or less; on income of $2,000 to $136,719, a cut of 12.6 on the first $2,000 and 7.4 per cent on the rest; an income over $136,719, a cut of 12.6 per cent on the first $2,000, 7.4 per cent on the next $134,700 and five per cent on the rest.

The range of the House bill percentage reductions is 30 per cent on incomes up to $1,000; 30 to 20 per cent between $1,000 and $1,395; 20 per cent between $1,395 and $4,000; and—over $4,000-20 per cent on the first $4,000 and 10 per cent on the rest.

In all cases these deductions are applied to income after deductions and exemptions.

The Senate bill gives 70.5 per cent of its $4,800,000,000 tax relief to persons making less than $5,000, after deductions but before exemptions.

Under the House bill, 71.81 per cent of the $6,500,000,000 relief would go to those earning less than $4,000, after deductions but before exemptions.

Under both bills:

1. The cut would be effective as of last January 1.

2. The personal exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent would be increased—from $500 to $600.

3. Husbands and wives in all states could split their incomes for tax purposes.

4. The maximum standard deduction for contributions, medical and certain other expenses would be increased to $1,000.

Britain Asked To Revive Air Raid Shelter Policy

LONDON, March 22. (AP) — The government was asked in the House of Commons tonight to bring its wartime air raid shelter policy up to date for use at short notice.

Sir John Anderson, for whom the backyard "Anderson shelter" was named during the war when he was Minister of Home Security, asked for its revival.

Russia Is Reported Buying Tons Of Possible War Materiel In U. S.

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Two New York newspapers said today Russia has been purchasing huge quantities of possible war material in America for shipment to the Soviet Union.

Several shiploads already have gone to Russia, the papers said.

The Journal-American said in a copyright story it had learned that:

"Agents for the Amtorg Trading Corporation, the official Russian purchasing commission in this country, have been, and still are, swarming over the country buying new and used bomber engines and transport and cargo plane components which were scrapped as junk by the War Assets Administration and the armed services.

"Russian agents have bought and are still buying engines and parts for B-17s, B-24s, C-46s, C-47s and for heavier craft as well as fighter planes at depots in Texas, Arkansas, Arizona, California, New York and even in Washington, D. C.

The World-Telegram said that thousands of tons of material that could be used in war production plants are being loaded on Russian freighters in American ports and transported to the Soviet Union.

"Much in the manner in which Japanese freighters gathered every bit of available scrap before the war, the Russian vessels are cruising from port to port along the eastern and southern coastlines picking up machinery, metals and parts wherever available."

Meanwhile, in Jersey City, N. J., AFL longshoremen today refused to cross a picket line established by veterans in front of a pier where the Russian freighter Chukokta was being loaded with machinery.

The picket line was formed yesterday by 25 members of the Hud-

Navy Denies U.S. Warships In Mid-East Have A-Bombs

LINCOLN, Neb., March 22 (AP)—Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) said today "most of our fleet is in the Mediterranean" and "some of the ships are properly equipped with atomic bombs."

Miller spoke at a Nebraska Republican Founders' Day luncheon.

"It is my opinion that if Tito starts a drive on Trieste or into Northern Italy or the Russians try to push us out of Germany, we would see atomic bombs dropped inside of 48 hours. And I would so recommend it," Miller said.

(The Navy said in Washington: "Rep. Miller must be misinformed. The Navy has only 14 combatant ships in the Mediterranean and none of them carries an atomic bomb.")

"Most of the aircraft carriers are there," the congressman said in reference to the United States fleet. "Three battleships are near Trieste in command of the situation there."

The Congressman described Washington as "in a constant state of jitters due to a daily hypodermic of fear serum."

The American people crave for integrity and a spiritual leadership —for someone who will serve notice on Joe Stalin to stop his Communist aggression," Miller declared.

Practically All Of Maryland Will Have Daylight Time This Summer

BALTIMORE, March 22 (AP) — Maryland apparently will be a fairly solid daylight saving time state this summer.

There are still some holdout sections, notably Queen Annes and Garrett Counties. But there is not likely to be a repeat of last year's confusion, when some communities were on-again-off-again and part of Maryland was an hour ahead of itself for a while.

Some of them again may wait until the last minute before the general northeastern seaboard switchover to fast time on Sunday, April 25. Some may even change their minds after then.

But in most cities and counties the die is already cast.

Cumberland's Mayor and Council took official action today putting that city on daylight time April 25.

Allegany County followed Cumberland's lead last year and the county commissioners are expected to do just what they did then: Make no mandatory ruling but resolve that daylight is a good idea.

The Howard and St. Mary's County commissioners are expected to make their decisions tomorrow.

Cambridge makes up its mind next week.

For the District of Columbia, the first move has to come in Congress. The Senate is expected to debate next week a bill which would give the district commissioners authority to decide about daylight saving each year without further reference to Congress.

The nation's capital went on daylight saving last year—somewhat belatedly—and is expected to adopt it again this spring.

What the cities and larger communities do is a major factor in how the counties go.

Baltimore went on daylight saving time last year after it was approved by the voters. This year it's automatic.

The Baltimore County commissioners haven't acted yet, but the county had "fast time" last year and probably will again. The same applies for Harford, Carroll, Howard, and Anne Arundel counties. Their business and transportation are closely geared to Baltimore. They all had daylight saving time last year, Harford County reluctantly.

Hagerstown already has adopted daylight saving. Most of Washington will follow as it did last year, but there may be a few holdout communities.

Frederick has embraced "fast time," with Frederick County following suit.

The only big difference between tre House and Senate measures is in the percentage of tax cut at the various levels of income.

The Senate bill makes reductions ranging from 12.6 per cent for those with the smallest income to five per cent for those with the biggest. The House reductions run from 30 down to 10 per cent.

Under either measure the $500 personal exemption for each taxpayer and dependent would go up to $600.

Both bills also have these provisions:

Permission for husbands and wives in all states to split their income tax for tax purposes as they now can do in community property states, putting them in lower tax brackets.

Raising the extra exemption for blind persons from $500 to $600.

An extra $600 exemption for persons 65 or older.

Both bills carry the cuts back to last January 1.

Lid Will Be Clamped On

WASHINGTON, March 22. (AP)—The gate will be double padlocked against shipment to Russia of any American goods that could increase Soviet military or industrial power, a Commerce Department official said today.

The only gap in the fence now, he said, is one which permits exit of goods which already were on their way to port when new export rules were put in effect on March 1. When those shipments are cleared, he said, there won't be any more.

Building Controls Doomed

WASHINGTON, March 22. (AP)—Senate and House conferees agreed today, it was reported, to scrap all controls over the construction of amusement and recreational buildings. The conferees are striving to write a new rent control law.

Reds Say Truman Speech Reflects "Panic Policy"

MOSCOW, March 22 (AP)—Pravda said today President Truman's address to Congress last week reflected "panic policy" and an effort of his administration to artificially inflame international relations.

The official Communist Party newspaper carried the first published comment here on Mr. Truman's appearance last Wednesday before a joint session of the Congress.

(Mr. Truman asked Congress for temporary revival of the draft, universal military training and quick approval of the European recovery program. He charged the Soviet Union with seeking to prevent world peace.)

are now in controversy. The report and recommendations of the fact-finding board, while not binding on the parties, will be used as a basis for the collective bargaining procedure set forth in the national agreement between the operators and the United Mine Workers of America.

"If the parties agree to this proposal but are unable to agree on the members of such fact-finding board, this service (Federal Conciliation Service) will undertake to make the necessary appointments.

"If this proposal is accepted, I am wiring Mr. (Ezra) Van Horn and Mr. Lewis as trustees, asking them to meet as early as possible for the purpose of activating the trust fund to whatever extent is reasonable and practicable to do so."

The $30,000,000 welfare fund, built up by the 10 cent royalty on each ton of coal produced, is resting in the bank. Lewis and Van Horn, the operators' trustee, have been unable to settle on a pension plan for the soft coal miners.

What the cities and larger communities do is a major factor in how the counties go.

Baltimore went on daylight saving time last year after it was approved by the voters. This year it's automatic.

The Baltimore County commissioners haven't acted yet, but the county had "fast time" last year and probably will again. The same applies for Harford, Carroll, Howard, and Anne Arundel counties. Their business and transportation are closely geared to Baltimore. They all had daylight saving time last year, Harford County reluctantly.

Hagerstown already has adopted daylight saving. Most of Washington will follow as it did last year, but there may be a few holdout communities.

Frederick has embraced "fast time," with Frederick County following suit.

The only big difference between tre House and Senate measures is in the percentage of tax cut at the various levels of income.

The Senate bill makes reductions ranging from 12.6 per cent for those with the smallest income to five per cent for those with the biggest. The House reductions run from 30 down to 10 per cent.

Under either measure the $500 personal exemption for each taxpayer and dependent would go up to $600.

Both bills also have these provisions:

Permission for husbands and wives in all states to split their income tax for tax purposes as they now can do in community property states, putting them in lower tax brackets.

Raising the extra exemption for blind persons from $500 to $600.

An extra $600 exemption for persons 65 or older.

Both bills carry the cuts back to last January 1.

Lid Will Be Clamped On

WASHINGTON, March 22. (AP)—The gate will be double padlocked against shipment to Russia of any American goods that could increase Soviet military or industrial power, a Commerce Department official said today.

The only gap in the fence now, he said, is one which permits exit of goods which already were on their way to port when new export rules were put in effect on March 1. When those shipments are cleared, he said, there won't be any more.

WASHINGTON, March 22. (AP)—Senate and House conferees agreed today, it was reported, to scrap all controls over the construction of amusement and recreational buildings. The conferees are striving to write a new rent control law.

Reds Say Truman Speech Reflects "Panic Policy"

MOSCOW, March 22 (AP)—Pravda said today President Truman's address to Congress last week reflected "panic policy" and an effort of his administration to artificially inflame international relations.

The official Communist Party newspaper carried the first published comment here on Mr. Truman's appearance last Wednesday before a joint session of the Congress.

(Mr. Truman asked Congress for temporary revival of the draft, universal military training and quick approval of the European recovery program. He charged the Soviet Union with seeking to prevent world peace.)

are now in controversy. The report and recommendations of the fact-finding board, while not binding on the parties, will be used as a basis for the collective bargaining procedure set forth in the national agreement between the operators and the United Mine Workers of America.

"If the parties agree to this proposal but are unable to agree on the members of such fact-finding board, this service (Federal Conciliation Service) will undertake to make the necessary appointments.

"If this proposal is accepted, I am wiring Mr. (Ezra) Van Horn and Mr. Lewis as trustees, asking them to meet as early as possible for the purpose of activating the trust fund to whatever extent is reasonable and practicable to do so."

The $30,000,000 welfare fund, built up by the 10 cent royalty on each ton of coal produced, is resting in the bank. Lewis and Van Horn, the operators' trustee, have been unable to settle on a pension plan for the soft coal miners.

Rep. Beall Makes Himself Clear On 'Commie' Activities

If any doubt had existed as to how Representative J. Glenn Beall viewed the activities of communistic elements in this country it has been removed in his announcement to again seek the Republican nomination for a fourth term in Congress from the Sixth Maryland district.

Rep. Beall has expressed himself with such force as to make it clear that he considers the existence, in government, of employes who are considered "fences" for the Kremlin one of the major dangers confronting the American people. And he does not intend that it will continue if he can help it. Those who have watched the spread of communism in other parts of the world and who have looked with a feeling of uneasiness on the bold attempts of "pinks" to entrench themselves in America will take comfort in the fact that Congressman Beall is fully cognizance of a situation that could very easily, if permitted to go unchecked, bring untold grief to Americans.

Rep. Beall has been collaborating with Republican groups in Congress in a relentless campaign to cleanse the government of communistic stooges. They have succeeded in having removed from the State Department, for instance, a number of communistic sympathizers only to find they have been re-employed in some other bureaus. It is hardly possible that this could have been done without the knowledge of the White House. But when it is considered that "fellow travelers" have been permitted to find their way into government circles over a period of fifteen years, with the sanction and encouragement of those in control, at Washington, what can the American people expect now.

Rep. Beall, in making his candidacy announcement, placed his views on communism above everything else. He shunted to a secondary position his record of achievements in Congress, both for the nation and for his Sixth District constituents, although they are of such a beneficial nature to all classes and sections they could very well have taken precedent.

But he is determined not to stand idly by while those in sympathy with the Kremlin doctrine tighten their hold in the United States. It is gratifying to know that he is bending every effort to wrench loose whatever grips unworthies might have on the government in order to make certain the freedoms we have been privileged to enjoy and to treasure since the birth of our country are made more secure.

One gets the impression sometimes that Candidate Truman thinks inflation, as a political asset, is a swell affair.

Significant Shift In Power By Railroad Systems

The Office of Defense Transportation order cutting coal-burning rail passenger service by 25 per cent sounds as if the nation is already at war. But the order is not the result of international politics. It is caused by a purely domestic crisis—the walk-out of John L. Lewis's miners. Railroad coal stocks are low, lower than during the previous strikes, and the supply must be conserved or Cumberland industries may be forced to curtail operations within a short time unless mining is resumed quickly.

There will be one significant difference between this cut and wartime restrictions. It will not be as great. And for that the nation can thank the increasing shift to Diesel-powered trains.

During the war a 25 per cent cut would have affected all but a few Diesel and electric locomotives. Today, according to Government figures, only 45 per cent of the passenger trains are hauled by coal-burning locomotives. A 25 per cent cut of this 45 per cent amounts to only 11 per cent of the total.

The change-over to Diesel power in the last two years has been startling. In 1946, 563 new locomotives were put into service, 480 being Diesel and 83 steam. Last year of the total of 843 new locomotives, only 72 were steam and 769 Diesel. On January 1, 1948, the railroads had 1,226 locomotives on order, of which 30 were steam, four electric and 1,192 Diesel.

There are a number of reasons why the railroads are shifting to Diesel power. The principal one is that Diesels are more efficient per unit cost and require less maintenance. But not the least of the causes of the shift is the uncertainty in the coal supply, the very thing which John L. Lewis regularly threatens and which his striking miners confirm. By their tactics the United Mine Workers are helping to lose a valuable customer for coal.

Lenten Season Draws To Close; Length Has Varied

As Lent draws again to a close, it may be of some interest to note that the length of the Lenten fast and the rigor with which it has been observed have varied greatly at different times and in different countries. The custom of observing a Lent of six weeks and four days, comprising 40 days of fast excluding Sundays, has been of slow evolution.

The observance, taking place in the spring, became identified with the season in nomenclature. The word Lent means spring. In ancient times the fast before Easter was very short, being confined to the 40 hours between the afternoon of Good Friday and the morning of Easter.

In Alexandria, at a later date, it became customary to fast during all of Holy Week. The Encyclopedia Britannica says:

"Of the Lenten fast or Quadragesima, the first mention is in the fifth cannon of the Council of Nicaea (325) and from this time it is frequently referred to, but chiefly as a season of preparation for baptism, of absolution of penitents or of retreat and recollection. In this season fasting played a part, but it was not universally or vigorously enforced."

The first Lenten fast in England was ordered to be observed by Earconberht, King of Kent (640-664). And in the Middle Ages, eggs and milk were forbidden during Lent not only by ecclesiastical but by statute law.

The recurrence of the symbolical figure 40 in the Lenten observance harks to the traditional 40 hours during which Christ's body rested in the tomb. It is the heart of the Christian world's participation in the eternal significance of the Crucifixion and the Resurrection.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Health Factors

Health is one of our most prized possessions; without it, we are greatly handicapped. This is rarely appreciated unless we are forced to the sidelines by illness or an infirmity, becoming spectators rather than participants in the game of life.

We may consider ourselves morally obligated to practice good hygiene but this is not always enough to keep us healthy. There are many factors not under our control and among these, heredity is most important. Much depends upon the type of tissues that are handed down to us by our forebears. It is well known that various illnesses and deformities such as deafness, digestive and nervous disorders, certain cancers, and vascular diseases "run in families." Some individuals come from hardier stock than others and are stronger physically and mentally so that stress and strain can be borne more easily.

Environment also plays a part and those who are forced to live in unsanitary or unhygienic surroundings are inclined to develop certain maladies. Children born to tuberculous parents, for example, have a tendency to become infected through personal contact. While segregation of the sick has done much to offset this disadvantage, the risk exists until the disease is discovered.

Some locations are more unwholesome than others. The individual who lives in a damp climate or one in which weather changes are rapid is prone to encounter rheumatic disturbances; those in the tropics are often bitten by harmful insects.

The nervous system may have been warped by the actions of a person's parents during his impressionable years. Perhaps the father or mother was unstable or the family was "broken up" by separation, divorce, or death. Such individuals can hardly be blamed for becoming psychoneurotics regardless of how carefully they follow the rules of health.

The accident problems must be considered as the disability and death rates along this line are so high as to almost nullify many of our wonderful medical discoveries. Enforcing our traffic laws and learning to handle high speed machines will help. Some occupations are hazardous; farmers are likely to be incapacitated by injury; executives, by coronary thrombosis. Furthermore, wear and tear is difficult to prevent and spare parts are not available for those that have seen their day. But if every individual does his part by developing good health habits, a longer life expectancy can be anticipated.

COLD NOSE

G. T. writes: During the wintertime my nose runs constantly when I am out of doors. Is there any way to correct this disorder?

Reply

This phenomenon is rather common in bitter weather and is sometimes combined with tearing of the eyes. If it occurs even when the weather is not extremely cold, you might investigate infection or allergy.

FILLER-UPPER

N.S. writes: I am stout and people tell me that buttermilk and cottage cheese are reducing. Is this so?

Reply

Not actually though these foods are low in calories and hence are usually included in reducing diets.

SURGERY

J. W. writes: Is the removal of hemorrhoids considered a major or minor operation?

Reply

It would be difficult to convince a person who has had the operation that it was a minor procedure.

BETTER IN NEW

V. B writes: Is penicillin of any value in an old case of gonorrhea?

Reply

This depends upon the extent of the involvement and whether the organisms are still active. The drug will not eliminate residual changes like scar tissue.

SKIN DENTS

I. M. writes: Could lack of vitamins or nervousness cause the fingers to dent on picking up an object? There seems to be no elasticity to the skin.

Reply

I doubt it. This situation is not uncommon in individuals with dropsy or those who have lost the padding of fat beneath the skin through weight reduction. The answer calls for examination by a skilled physician.

INFECTED SHOES

M.J.S. writes: Is there danger of developing ringworm through wearing of the shoes of a person who had the disorder?

Reply

Yes. In addition, an individual who has been cured can reinfect himself by wearing his old shoes.

VARIED SYMPTOMS

G.S. writes: What is the first sign of stomach ulcer?

Reply

The majority of victims complain of indigestion or abdominal discomfort. A few are completely oblivious of the disorder until hemorrhage or rupture occurs.

U. S. Will Not Drop A-Bomb First; Key West Conference Worried Over Bomb's Effect On Women, Children; Russians Have Secrets Of Nazi Sub

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 22—With the war scare such as it is, one all-important, obvious question is whether the United States should get the draw on Russia and drop the A-bomb first. This question has been discussed at Key West and at other military conferences, but the decision seems to have been no.

In fact, at Key West, Admiral Leahy, the President's Chief of Staff, even made a passionate plea that the atomic bomb not be used in such a way as to harm innocent women and children in enemy territory.

Leahy was reminded by other experts, however, that it was impossible to use the A-bomb against a small military target, also that it was impossible to know whether women and children might be near that target; also that American women and children would not be spared when it came to enemy bombing.

One thing that shocked, almost stunned Secretary of Defense Forrestal at the Key West conference was the possibility that in case of a clash Russia might capture American wives and children of U. S. troops in Germany and Korea, holding them as hostages in case of atom-bombings. Forrestal was reminded that there could be another Bataan.

However, it was decided that the United States will lean over backward to make sure no war initiative, no overt act, no premature dropping of the A-bomb takes place.

At present, the United States has a more than ample supply of A-bombs, plus the capacity to make more at assembly-line speed. Furthermore, the new A-bomb is about 1,000 times more powerful than the bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

Wave Of Revenge

But they will not be used against any enemy in any surprise move. To do so would be against the Christian concepts of humanity, also against the century-and-a-half tradition of the United States that we have never attacked another nation.

Furthermore, for the United States to get the jump on the enemy by dropping the A-bomb would mean such revulsion of world feeling that we would lose our present moral position in Europe, also start a wave of hatred in Russia bound to result in a return war of revenge.

The history of every war is that when people consider themselves wronged, they bide their time and build up their resources until they can come back at their conqueror.

Another important point considered by U. S. defense chiefs is the fact that the Russians have now obtained all the secrets of German submarines, will undoubtedly use them to release rockets at major U. S. cities.

Toward the close of the war the German sub could breathe underwater and had a rubber skin which made radar detection difficult. They could also travel at the amazing speed of 18 knots submerged. These priceless secrets all fell into Russian hands.

As a result, Russian subs today could come close to American cities with V-2 rockets aboard, to be launched against U. S. cities from submarine decks.

These gruesome prospects are some of the things U. S. strategists necessarily must consider. They feel there is no use shutting our eyes to them, in fact, that if we prepare to meet them, the prospects of war with Russia will be lessened.

Note—Though President Truman focused attention on the need of manpower, one overlooked fact is Army equipment. Much of it is out-of-date. Of the $11 billion for defense in 1948, the Army got only $3 billion, of which $2 billion paid the cost of occupying Japan, Germany and Korea. Result: Not a single new piece of equipment has been bought since V-J Day.

Merry-Go-Round

Discouraged, a lot of good Democratic Congressional candidates are pulling out of the November race. Ex-Senator Jim Mead was planning to run for Congress from Buffalo; Frank Emma was planning to run from Utica, N. Y.; George Kelly from Rochester. Believing Truman's chances are almost nil, they've now changed their minds. . . . Stassen's undercover boys have contacted Ives for Vice President on Stassen's ticket. So far no result. . . . General MacArthur's backers are determined to put him across in Wisconsin—or else. There'll be a big billboard campaign throughout the entire state — they figure MacArthur's chances in other primaries are nil. . . . Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, high Democratic mogul, urged President Truman last week to stage an all-out fight against Henry Wallace or face defeat. . . . The Texas delegation to Congress is split—seven Congressmen for Truman and fourteen against him. . . . Tennessee's Senator McKellar has been quizzing colleagues as to who can run against Truman for the Democratic nomination. McKeller wants a Southern-Western ticket.

Diplomatic Merry-Go-Round

Attention Congressman John Taber: What's become of that $5 million deficiency appropriation for the State Department's "Voice of America". While you dilly-dally, the money is urgently needed to carry on pre-election propaganda in Italy. . . . Editor Will Bohn of the New Leader urges that President Benes be requested to appear before the United Nations Security Council to explain how the Communists took over Czechoslovakia. . . . Italian businessmen are making arrangements to get their money out of Italy in case of a Communist putsch. The Italian lira has dropped 20 per cent since Christmas. . . . The State Department is planning to spend $20 million of its interim aid money in Trieste—still the hottest spot in Europe. . . . The Army's Inspector General has made a secret report on black marketeering by American Army officers in Germany. It's pretty bad. . . . The United States will move for Italy's admission into the United Nations. If Russia vetoes Italy once again, the Italian people at least should know who Italy's real friends are.

Truman Can Blame Self For Idea Of "Manufactured Crisis"

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Too many people are saying that the international situation is just a "manufactured crisis" designed to help President Truman get re-elected.

The spread of such an impression is regrettable because it may give the Soviet leaders the idea that America is not in earnest in her official pronouncements and that the majority party in Congress—the Republicans—are not behind the President's program.

But the fact that such an idea is current and that even some Democrats look skeptically at the Administration's course in international affairs requires an explanation.

The answer lies in the low state of American politics. When, for example, a President of the United States makes an alliance with a labor faction to get votes and official Washington knows he didn't write the veto message disapproving the Taft-Hartley law but took the arguments which the CIO leaders handed him, he loses the confidence of people who want to believe in him.

Following Rules of Game

It will be said that both parties play politics and that Mr. Truman is merely following the rules of the game. Certainly, however, in international affairs he would not stoop to political tactics. Unfortunately, Mr. Truman is the victim here of a propaganda that has been built up with respect to the 1940 and 1944 presidential campaigns, when another Democratic president didn't hesitate to use his "commander-in-chief" role to get votes.

Mr. Roosevelt used to get quite a chuckle out of his so-called "inspection" trips to defense installations in various parts of the country, where political demonstrations and street parades ensued. Mr. Roosevelt had quite a lot of fun with the reporters pretending that his stumping trips were "non-political." Unhappily, however, for Mr. Truman, nowadays a large section of the public has been educated to believe that presidents do not hesitate to use international affairs to help them politically.

The truth, of course, about the present crisis in the world is that Mr. Truman had no more to do with the fact that it happens to have developed in an election year than he had to do with the fact that communism exists in the world. Certainly the maneuvers which caused the Soviet rulers a year ago to begin their aggression in Greece and now to pursue a further aggression in Czechoslovakia are steps which could not possibly have been brought about through any American action or influence. The very recitation of the facts of history is refutation of that thesis.

Depends On Marshall

Mr. Truman depends almost entirely on Secretary of State Marshall to guide him in public affairs. Some people think he depends too much on a man who has a military mind and doesn't understand diplomacy any more than most professional soldiers do. But there isn't a political ambition or party twist anywhere in Mr. Marshall's makeup. If he has made a mistake in his conferences abroad, they have yet to be proved such.

In dealing with an unscrupulous clique in Moscow, Mr. Marshall's soldierly background had led to a course of extreme caution and prudence. Whether any other course might have succeeded is debatable, though a large number of persons in America think old-fashioned realism might have been employed in reaching direct agreement with Russia on outstanding issues. However that may be, this is a far cry from accusing Mr. Truman or Mr. Marshall of shaping events so as to bring a crisis in world affairs. Mr. Truman is no more responsible for Stalin's course of aggression than anybody in America was for Hitler's behavior.

Two Reversals Of Attitude On Our International Policy

By MARK SULLIVAN

Within two days last week we made two reversals of attitude on international policy, both sensational. One was reversal of our former policy of setting up an independent Jewish nation in Palestine. The other was a proposal, in which Britain and France joined with us, that Trieste be restored to Italy. Its status since last September has been that of territory taken from Italy and put under a trusteeship, part of it administered by the United States and Britain, part by Yugoslavia.

Both these declarations of changed policy caused public sensation, which continues, and the one about Palestine caused not only sensation but acrimony. Both reversals will be better understood if looked upon in connection with a third reversal of policy made some ten days ago. This was about China. During the war and since our policy has been that the Chinese Communists should be regarded as a kind of minority party, and be given representation in the Chinese government. This policy we have now abandoned.

Primary Responsibility Is U.S.

In all three reversals is a pattern, and a common purpose. The key to the purpose is in the theme of the address Secretary of State Marshall made at Los Angeles last Saturday. He said that the United States has the job of safeguarding Western civilization. While other nations share the load, "the primary responsibility is now clearly ours . . . in the worldwide struggle now taking place . . ."

The key to our reversals of policy is in the words "worldwide struggle." Following the war our policies were based on the assumption that there was to be "one world," in which Russia would cooperate. When the Russian heads made it plain that they did not believe in cooperation and would not practice it, they forced upon us the status of one side in a worldwide struggle. This new status necessitated reversals of policies that had been followed before.

For our new role, our policy-makers at Washington have set up the equivalent of what military heads and the anti-axis nations during the war called an "over-all strategic concept." Our reversals of former policies, our new positions taken, are essential details of the over-all concept, necessities for better carrying out our responsibility on a world-wide basis. It was on the level of the over-all concept that the decisions to change were made. About the change that has excited most acrimony in America, the Palestine one, Secretary Marshall said: "I recommended it to the President and he approved my recommendation."

Principle Above Political Expediency

This raises the Palestine change above the level of acrimony and politics. Politics was in it, in the sense that some Democratic party leaders urged upon President Truman that he stand by the former policy about Palestine, and carry it farther by approving, among other proposals, use of an international army, presumably containing an American contingent, to sustain an independent Jewish nation in Palestine. Rejection of political minded advice, and acceptance of that of his top policy-makers, was an act of courage on Mr. Truman's part, a preference of principle above political expediency.

For Secretary Marshall's recommendation of change of the Palestine policy, the reasons are obvious. The former policy contained probability of a new area of perhaps prolonged conflict when points of conflict are already too many. Use of American troops as part of an international army in Palestine would have been a new demand on our armed forces, when our commitments are already many and in danger of increasing. If American troops were in Palestine, presumably Russian ones would be there also, and this would be a new point of contact and conflict.

These and other reasons are parts of the over-all concept for conduct of our conflict with Russia.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Protection For Children

All the time I read about how our children are being corrupted by the movies, radio, the comic strip and now television. As one writer, Gertrude Samuels, puts it: "Do children need this exposure to violence, red-blooded adventure and the argot of criminals as part of their natural process of 'growing up'?"

Each generation, when it becomes adult, forgets its own childhood, except in a kind of nostalgic perfection. The other day, I was discussing our doings of 40 years ago with an Irish friend and we both concluded that stealing sweet mickies (sweet potato to the ignorant) from a pushcart peddler, baking them in a fire made of old wooden boxes and barrels, purloined from wherever they could be purloined and fixed on the street where all could gather about it, was not juvenile delinquency. It was fun.

In those days, we read Frank Merriwell and Dead-Eye Dick and although Henty and Barbour were tolerated, Horatio Alger was regarded as inadequately literate. However, we survived them all and many of us came out of the cauldron, misty sentimentalists who love all of mankind, no matter what kind.

I watch my little girl listen of an afternoon to all this miserable stuff called Soap Opera which I would not be caught listening to—but nobody can catch you overhearing it, if it's on anyhow. So, I wonder if the child is being corrupted by all the miseries of family life, and Woe is me! I discovered that somehow, out of the reaching of childhood, she is discovering that some things are good and some things are bad, and that if you pursue the bad courses, you get into trouble in the end—even if, in between, you might get a mink coat. That is more than I get from movies for adults, most of which are designed to show that the wages of sin are a penthouse, a diamond bracelet and an emotion termed love, by which is meant not the sobriety of family life but sex passion, simple if not pure.

Then I discovered that my young fellow gets a vast amount of scientific information occasionally from "Jack Armstrong, the All-American Boy," and "Exploring the Unknown," and "Eye-Witness" and "The Nature of Things" on Television. Then I found the best Bible (forbidden in schools by the Supreme Court) teaching they get from "Light of the World," and "The Greatest Story Ever Told." The Supreme Court has not yet made an atheist of the radio.

Now, as to comic strips, there are two that I like very much for children, "Prince Valiant," which I am sure is both historically valuable and inspirational, and "Dick's Advintures", which gives a child a background of his country. I find that children tire of both the murders and what a small boy described to me as "smack-smack", meaning that the characters osculate profusely. What they like is a story—a continuous, moving story.

We adults, who used to watch the early serials in the movies, had about the same taste in movies as our children nowadays have in serials, We liked, for instance," "The Perils of Pauline" and similar serials and went every week, and had a week in between to speculate on how they would come out. In fact, the speculation was part of the game and it was worth saving pennies to make the nickle.

The assumption that all these forms of child entertainment are ipso factor bad is both untrue and unfair. A well-bred child, one whose parents are not too busy to talk things over, will after trial and error, discover what is stupid, what is boring and what, to the child, is a waste of time. Of course, the child whose parents are always too busy to give even a moment for discussion, lacks the chance to weave a story of its own imagination.

In fact, it seems to me that our quarrel is not with what the child reads or sees or hears; it is that the current generation of parents seem to have too little time and patience to be a part of the child's life.

Rep. Beall Makes Himself Clear On 'Commie' Activities

If any doubt had existed as to how Representative J. Glenn Beall viewed the activities of communistic elements in this country it has been removed in his announcement to again seek the Republican nomination for a fourth term in Congress from the Sixth Maryland district.

Rep. Beall has expressed himself with such force as to make it clear that he considers the existence, in government, of employes who are considered "fences" for the Kremlin one of the major dangers confronting the American people. And he does not intend that it will continue if he can help it. Those who have watched the spread of communism in other parts of the world and who have looked with a feeling of uneasiness on the bold attempts of "pinks" to entrench themselves in America will take comfort in the fact that Congressman Beall is fully cognizance of a situation that could very easily, if permitted to go unchecked, bring untold grief to Americans.

Rep. Beall has been collaborating with Republican groups in Congress in a relentless campaign to cleanse the government of communistic stooges. They have succeeded in having removed from the State Department, for instance, a number of communistic sympathizers only to find they have been re-employed in some other bureaus. It is hardly possible that this could have been done without the knowledge of the White House. But when it is considered that "fellow travelers" have been permitted to find their way into government circles over a period of fifteen years, with the sanction and encouragement of those in control, at Washington, what can the American people expect now.

Rep. Beall, in making his candidacy announcement, placed his views on communism above everything else. He shunted to a secondary position his record of achievements in Congress, both for the nation and for his Sixth District constituents, although they are of such a beneficial nature to all classes and sections they could very well have taken precedent.

But he is determined not to stand idly by while those in sympathy with the Kremlin doctrine tighten their hold in the United States. It is gratifying to know that he is bending every effort to wrench loose whatever grips unworthies might have on the government in order to make certain the freedoms we have been privileged to enjoy and to treasure since the birth of our country are made more secure.

One gets the impression sometimes that Candidate Truman thinks inflation, as a political asset, is a swell affair.

Significant Shift In Power By Railroad Systems

The Office of Defense Transportation order cutting coal-burning rail passenger service by 25 per cent sounds as if the nation is already at war. But the order is not the result of international politics. It is caused by a purely domestic crisis—the walk-out of John L. Lewis's miners. Railroad coal stocks are low, lower than during the previous strikes, and the supply must be conserved or Cumberland industries may be forced to curtail operations within a short time unless mining is resumed quickly.

There will be one significant difference between this cut and wartime restrictions. It will not be as great. And for that the nation can thank the increasing shift to Diesel-powered trains.

During the war a 25 per cent cut would have affected all but a few Diesel and electric locomotives. Today, according to Government figures, only 45 per cent of the passenger trains are hauled by coal-burning locomotives. A 25 per cent cut of this 45 per cent amounts to only 11 per cent of the total.

The change-over to Diesel power in the last two years has been startling. In 1946, 563 new locomotives were put into service, 480 being Diesel and 83 steam. Last year of the total of 843 new locomotives, only 72 were steam and 769 Diesel. On January 1, 1948, the railroads had 1,226 locomotives on order, of which 30 were steam, four electric and 1,192 Diesel.

There are a number of reasons why the railroads are shifting to Diesel power. The principal one is that Diesels are more efficient per unit cost and require less maintenance. But not the least of the causes of the shift is the uncertainty in the coal supply, the very thing which John L. Lewis regularly threatens and which his striking miners confirm. By their tactics the United Mine Workers are helping to lose a valuable customer for coal.

Lenten Season Draws To Close; Length Has Varied

As Lent draws again to a close, it may be of some interest to note that the length of the Lenten fast and the rigor with which it has been observed have varied greatly at different times and in different countries. The custom of observing a Lent of six weeks and four days, comprising 40 days of fast excluding Sundays, has been of slow evolution.

The observance, taking place in the spring, became identified with the season in nomenclature. The word Lent means spring. In ancient times the fast before Easter was very short, being confined to the 40 hours between the afternoon of Good Friday and the morning of Easter.

In Alexandria, at a later date, it became customary to fast during all of Holy Week. The Encyclopedia Britannica says:

"Of the Lenten fast or Quadragesima, the first mention is in the fifth cannon of the Council of Nicaea (325) and from this time it is frequently referred to, but chiefly as a season of preparation for baptism, of absolution of penitents or of retreat and collection. In this season fasting played a part, but it was not universally or vigorously enforced."

The first Lenten fast in England was ordered to be observed by Earconberht, King of Kent (640-664). And in the Middle Ages, eggs and milk were forbidden during Lent not only by ecclesiastical but by statute law.

The recurrence of the symbolical figure 40 in the Lenten observance harks to the traditional 40 hours during which Christ's body rested in the tomb. It is the heart of the Christian world's participation in the eternal significance of the Crucifixion and the Resurrection.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Health Factors

Health is one of our most prized possessions; without it, we are greatly handicapped. This is rarely appreciated unless we are forced to the sidelines by illness or an infirmity, becoming spectators rather than participants in the game of life.

We may consider ourselves morally obligated to practice good hygiene but this is not always enough to keep us healthy. There are many factors not under our control and among these, heredity is most important. Much depends upon the type of tissues that are handed down to us by our forebears. It is well known that various illnesses and deformities such as deafness, digestive and nervous disorders, certain cancers, and vascular diseases "run in families." Some individuals come from hardier stock than others and are stronger physically and mentally so that stress and strain can be borne more easily.

Environment also plays a part and those who are forced to live in unsanitary or unhygienic surroundings are inclined to develop certain maladies. Children born to tuberculous parents, for example, have a tendency to become infected through personal contact. While segregation of the sick has done much to offset this disadvantage, the risk exists until the disease is discovered.

Some locations are more unwholesome than others. The individual who lives in a damp climate or one in which weather changes are rapid is prone to encounter rheumatic disturbances; those in the tropics are often bitten by harmful insects.

The nervous system may have been warped by the actions of a person's parents during his impressionable years. Perhaps the father or mother was unstable or the family was "broken up" by separation, divorce, or death. Such individuals can hardly be blamed for becoming psychoneurotics regardless of how carefully they follow the rules of health.

The accident problems must be considered as the disability and death rates along this line are so high as to almost nullify many of our wonderful medical discoveries. Enforcing our traffic laws and learning to handle high speed machines will help. Some occupations are hazardous; farmers are likely to be incapacitated by injury; executives, by coronary thrombosis. Furthermore, wear and tear is difficult to prevent and spare parts are not available for those that have seen their day. But if every individual does his part by developing good health habits, a longer life expectancy can be anticipated.

U. S. Will Not Drop A-Bomb First; Key West Conference Worried Over Bomb's Effect On Women, Children; Russians Have Secrets Of Nazi Sub

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 22—With the war scare such as it is, one all-important, obvious question is whether the United States should get the draw on Russia and drop the A-bomb first. This question has been discussed at Key West and at other military conferences, but the decision seems to have been no.

In fact, at Key West, Admiral Leahy, the President's Chief of Staff, even made a passionate plea that the atomic bomb not be used in such a way as to harm innocent women and children in enemy territory.

Leahy was reminded by other experts, however, that it was impossible to use the A-bomb against a small military target, also that it was impossible to know whether women and children might be near that target; also that American women and children would not be spared when it came to enemy bombing.

One thing that shocked, almost stunned Secretary of Defense Forrestal at the Key West conference was the possibility that in case of a clash Russia might capture American wives and children of U. S. troops in Germany and Korea, holding them as hostages in case of atom-bombings. Forrestal was reminded that there could be another Bataan.

However, it was decided that the United States will lean over backward to make sure no war initiative, no overt act, no premature dropping of the A-bomb takes place.

At present, the United States has a more than ample supply of A-bombs, plus the capacity to make more at assembly-line speed. Furthermore, the new A-bomb is about 1,000 times more powerful than the bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

Wave Of Revenge

But they will not be used against any enemy in any surprise move. To do so would be against the Christian concepts of humanity, also against the century-and-a-half tradition of the United States that we have never attacked another nation.

Furthermore, for the United States to get the jump on the enemy by dropping the A-bomb would mean such revulsion of world feeling that we would lose our present moral position in Europe, also start a wave of hatred in Russia bound to result in a return war of revenge.

The history of every war is that when people consider themselves wronged, they bide their time and build up their resources until they can come back at their conqueror.

Another important point considered by U. S. defense chiefs is the fact that the Russians have now obtained all the secrets of German submarines, will undoubtedly use them to release rockets at major U. S. cities.

Toward the close of the war the German sub could breathe underwater and had a rubber skin which made radar detection difficult. They could also travel at the amazing speed of 18 knots submerged. These priceless secrets all fell into Russian hands.

As a result, Russian subs today could come close to American cities with V-2 rockets aboard, to be launched against U. S. cities from submarine decks.

These gruesome prospects are some of the things U. S. strategists necessarily must consider. They feel there is no use shutting our eyes to them, in fact, that if we prepare to meet them, the prospects of war with Russia will be lessened.

Note—Though President Truman focused attention on the need of manpower, one overlooked fact is Army equipment. Much of it is out-of-date. Of the $11 billion for defense in 1948, the Army got only $3 billion, of which $2 billion paid the cost of occupying Japan, Germany and Korea. Result: Not a single new piece of equipment has been bought since V-J Day.

Merry-Go-Round

Discouraged, a lot of good Democratic Congressional candidates are pulling out of the November race. Ex-Senator Jim Mead was planning to run for Congress from Buffalo; Frank Emma was planning to run from Utica, N. Y.; George Kelly from Rochester. Believing Truman's chances are almost nil, they've now changed their minds. . . . Stassen's undercover boys have contacted Ives for Vice President on Stassen's ticket. So far no result. . . . General MacArthur's backers are determined to put him across in Wisconsin—or else. There'll be a big billboard campaign throughout the entire state — they figure MacArthur's chances in other primaries are nil. . . . Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, high Democratic mogul, urged President Truman last week to stage an all-out fight against Henry Wallace or face defeat. . . . The Texas delegation to Congress is split—seven Congressmen for Truman and fourteen against him. . . . Tennessee's Senator McKellar has been quizzing colleagues as to who can run against Truman for the Democratic nomination. McKeller wants a Southern-Western ticket.

Diplomatic Merry-Go-Round

Attention Congressman John Taber: What's become of that $5 million deficiency appropriation for the State Department's "Voice of America". While you dilly-dally, the money is urgently needed to carry on pre-election propaganda in Italy. . . . Editor Will Bohn of the New Leader urges that President Benes be requested to appear before the United Nations Security Council to explain how the Communists took over Czechoslovakia. . . . Italian businessmen are making arrangements to get their money out of Italy in case of a Communist putsch. The Italian lira has dropped 20 per cent since Christmas. . . . The State Department is planning to spend $20 million of its interim aid money in Trieste—still the hottest spot in Europe. . . . The Army's Inspector General has made a secret report on black marketeering by American Army officers in Germany. It's pretty bad. . . . The United States will move for Italy's admission into the United Nations. If Russia vetoes Italy once again, the Italian people at least should know who Italy's real friends are.

Truman Can Blame Self For Idea Of "Manufactured Crisis"

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Too many people are saying that the international situation is just a "manufactured crisis" designed to help President Truman get re-elected.

The spread of such an impression is regrettable because it may give the Soviet leaders the idea that America is not in earnest in her official pronouncements and that the majority party in Congress—the Republicans—are not behind the President's program.

But the fact that such an idea is current and that even some Democrats look skeptically at the Administration's course in international affairs requires an explanation.

The answer lies in the low state of American politics. When, for example, a President of the United States makes an alliance with a labor faction to get votes and official Washington knows he didn't write the veto message disapproving the Taft-Hartley law but took the arguments which the CIO leaders handed him, he loses the confidence of people who want to believe in him.

Following Rules of Game

It will be said that both parties play politics and that Mr. Truman is merely following the rules of the game. Certainly, however, in international affairs he would not stoop to political tactics. Unfortunately, Mr. Truman is the victim here of a propaganda that has been built up with respect to the 1940 and 1944 presidential campaigns, when another Democratic president didn't hesitate to use his "commander-in-chief" role to get votes.

Mr. Roosevelt used to get quite a chuckle out of his so-called "inspection" trips to defense installations in various parts of the country, where political demonstrations and street parades ensued. Mr. Roosevelt had quite a lot of fun with the reporters pretending that his stumping trips were "non-political." Unhappily, however, for Mr. Truman, nowadays a large section of the public has been educated to believe that presidents do not hesitate to use international affairs to help them politically.

The truth, of course, about the present crisis in the world is that Mr. Truman had no more to do with the fact that it happens to have developed in an election year than he had to do with the fact that communism exists in the world. Certainly the maneuvers which caused the Soviet rulers a year ago to begin their aggression in Greece and now to pursue a further aggression in Czechoslovakia are steps which could not possibly have been brought about through any American action or influence. The very recitation of the facts of history is refutation of that thesis.

Depends On Marshall

Mr. Truman depends almost entirely on Secretary of State Marshall to guide him in public affairs. Some people think he depends too much on a man who has a military mind and doesn't understand diplomacy any more than most professional soldiers do. But there isn't a political ambition or party twist anywhere in Mr. Marshall's make-up. If he has made a mistake in his conferences abroad, they have yet to be proved such.

In dealing with an unscrupulous clique in Moscow, Mr. Marshall's soldierly background had led to a course of extreme caution and prudence. Whether any other course might have succeeded is debatable, though a large number of persons in America think old-fashioned realism might have been employed in reaching direct agreement with Russia on outstanding issues. However that may be, this is a far cry from accusing Mr. Truman or Mr. Marshall of shaping events so as to bring a crisis in world affairs. Mr. Truman is no more responsible for Stalin's course of aggression than anybody in America was for Hitler's behavior.

Two Reversals Of Attitude On Our International Policy

By MARK SULLIVAN

Within two days last week we made two reversals of attitude on international policy, both sensational. One was reversal of our former policy of setting up an independent Jewish nation in Palestine. The other was a proposal, in which Britain and France joined with us, that Trieste be restored to Italy. Its status since last September has been that of territory taken from Italy and put under a trusteeship, part of it administered by the United States and Britain, part by Yugoslavia.

Both these declarations of changed policy caused public sensation, which continues, and the one about Palestine caused not only sensation but acrimony. Both reversals will be better understood if looked upon in connection with a third reversal of policy made some ten days ago. This was about China. During the war and since our policy has been that the Chinese Communists should be regarded as a kind of minority party, and be given representation in the Chinese government. This policy we have now abandoned.

Primary Responsibility Is U.S.

In all three reversals is a pattern, and a common purpose. The key to the purpose is in the theme of the address Secretary of State Marshall made at Los Angeles last Saturday. He said that the United States has the job of safeguarding Western civilization. While other nations share the load, "the primary responsibility is now clearly ours . . . in the worldwide struggle now taking place . . ."

The key to our reversals of policy is in the words "worldwide struggle." Following the war our policies were based on the assumption that there was to be "one world," in which Russia would cooperate. When the Russian heads made it plain that they did not believe in cooperation and would not practice it, they forced upon us the status of one side in a worldwide struggle. This new status necessitated reversals of policies that had been followed before.

For our new role, our policy-makers at Washington have set up the equivalent of what military heads and the anti-axis nations during the war called an "over-all strategic concept." Our reversals of former policies, our new positions taken, are essential details of the over-all concept, necessities for better carrying out our responsibility on a world-wide basis. It was on the level of the over-all concept that the decisions to change were made. About the change that has excited most acrimony in America, the Palestine one, Secretary Marshall said: "I recommended it to the President and he approved my recommendation."

Principle Above Political Expediency

This raises the Palestine change above the level of acrimony and politics. Politics was in it, in the sense that some Democratic party leaders urged upon President Truman that he stand by the former policy about Palestine, and carry it farther by approving, among other proposals, use of an international army, presumably containing an American contingent, to sustain an independent Jewish nation in Palestine. Rejection of political minded advice, and acceptance of that of his top policy-makers, was an act of courage on Mr. Truman's part, a preference of principle above political expediency.

For Secretary Marshall's recommendation of change of the Palestine policy, the reasons are obvious. The former policy contained probability of a new area of perhaps prolonged conflict when points of conflict are already too many. Use of American troops as part of an international army in Palestine would have been a new demand on our armed forces, when our commitments are already many and in danger of increasing. If American troops were in Palestine, presumably Russian ones would be there also, and this would be a new point of contact and conflict.

These and other reasons are parts of the over-all concept for conduct of our conflict with Russia.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Protection For Children

All the time I read about how our children are being corrupted by the movies, radio, the comic strip and now television. As one writer, Gertrude Samuels, puts it: "Do children need this exposure to violence, red-blooded adventure and the argot of criminals as part of their natural process of 'growing up'?"

Each generation, when it becomes adult, forgets its own childhood, except in a kind of nostalgic perfection. The other day, I was discussing our doings of 40 years ago with an Irish friend and we both concluded that stealing sweet mickies (sweet potato to the ignorant) from a pushcart peddler, baking them in a fire made of old wooden boxes and barrels, purloined from wherever they could be purloined and fixed on the street where all could gather about it, was not juvenile delinquency. It was fun.

In those days, we read Frank Merriwell and Dead-Eye Dick and although Henty and Barbour were tolerated, Horatio Alger was regarded as inadequately literate. However, we survived them all and many of us came out of the cauldron, misty sentimentalists who love all of mankind, no matter what kind.

I watch my little girl listen of an afternoon to all this miserable stuff called Soap Opera which I would not be caught listening to—but nobody can catch you overhearing it, if it's on anyhow. So, I wonder if the child is being corrupted by all the miseries of family life, and Woe is me! I discovered that somehow, out of the reaching of childhood, she is discovering that some things are good and some things are bad, and that if you pursue the bad courses, you get into trouble in the end—even if, in between, you might get a mink coat. That is more than I get from movies for adults, most of which are designed to show that the wages of sin are a penthouse, a diamond bracelet and an emotion termed love, by which is meant not the sobriety of family life but sex passion, simple if not pure.

Then I discovered that my young fellow gets a vast amount of scientific information occasionally from "Jack Armstrong, the All-American Boy," and "Exploring the Unknown," and "Eye-Witness" and "The Nature of Things" on Television. Then I found the best Bible (forbidden in schools by the Supreme Court) teaching they get from "Light of the World," and "The Greatest Story Ever Told." The Supreme Court has not yet made an atheist of the radio.

Now, as to comic strips, there are two that I like very much for children, "Prince Valiant," which I am sure is both historically valuable and inspirational, and "Dick's Advintures", which gives a child a background of his country. I find that children tire of both the murders and what a small boy described to me as "smack-smack", meaning that the characters osculate profusely. What they like is a story—a continuous, moving story.

We adults, who used to watch the early serials in the movies, had about the same taste in movies as our children nowadays have in serials. We liked, for instance," "The Perils of Pauline" and similar serials and went every week, and had a week in between to speculate on how they would come out. In fact, the speculation was part of the game and it was worth saving pennies to make the nickle.

The assumption that all these forms of child entertainment are ipso factor bad is both untrue and unfair. A well-bred child, one whose parents are not too busy to talk things over, will after trial and error, discover what is stupid, what is boring and what, to the child, is a waste of time. Of course, the child whose parents are always too busy to give even a moment for discussion, lacks the chance to weave a story of its own imagination.

In fact, it seems to me that our quarrel is not with what the child reads or sees or hears; it is that the current generation of parents seem to have too little time and patience to be a part of the child's life.

Baering Down On The News

It's a slick prophet who chirps small and walks eggily on the shells of current events. I operate on the theory that a sardine fisherman with a harpoon has to be a good judge of distance.

If there is going to be a third world war it is going to be and salt will not change the flavor. But if sixteen European nations can get together they will stop a crisis that is now as one-sided as a toothache.

The plans call for production, cooperation and stabilization of interests. America finances the thing until it gets working. Then we finance it again.

But it is more economical than fighting another war. And we will have no difficulty understanding the sixteen different languages. We have had a complete education in gestures.

In 1912, two years before Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany launched his nation into a titanic struggle that eventually was to engulf the world and cast opprobrium on all things Teutonic, German beer gardens, rathskellers and saloons covered Manhattan from the Battery to the Bronx. German beer was the most popular beverage of the day, and one brand inspired the song hit of the year. This opus, written and composed by Vincent Bryan and Harry Von Tilzer, ran about like this:

The Rhine by moonlight's a beautiful sight
When the wind whispers through the vines—
But give me some good old rathskeller at night
Where the brilliant electric light shines.
Take me down, down, down where the Wurzburger flows, etc.

So popular became the song that journalist and critic Benjamin de Casseres facetiously commented that this "ode to a venerable beer saloon" threatened to replace the National Anthem.

The "venerable beer saloon" referred to was Luchow's on E. 14th St., then as now the most famous of New York's Germanic restaurants and the only one to survive—on the same premises, at least—the stress and strain of two world wars in which the United States was allied against Germany. Unwittingly, the Messrs. Bryan and Von Tilzer had written the swan song of that quality of happy living summed up in the untranslatable German word—gemutlichkeit. By 1917, when America became a participant in the World War (just the first World War, as it turned out), few of the old-time Germanic places remained open. Luchow's, by then a venerable 35 years old under the same management—prior to 1882 it had been known as Baron von Mehlbach's saloon—was among the exceptions. Not much is known about Guido August Luchow beyond the fact that he was born in Hanover, came to the United States in 1870 and served his apprenticeship at Stewart's popular saloon on Duane St. He became custodian of the bar at 110 E. 14th St., and within two years his name identified the place.

●—●—●

The fortune of Luchow waxed with the popularity of 14th St. as the crossroads of New York; it has outlived the fame of that thoroughfare. For nearly a quarter of a century—from, say, 1880 to 1905—14th was "the street" of New York. Within a span of less than half a mile it sheltered the Gay White Way of its time, as well as the town's shopping center, its sporting headquarters and the haunts of the Bohemian set. Near Sixth Avenue were located the great mercantile establishments — Macy's, Hearn's, Tiffany's. That temple of classical music, Steinway Hall, faced Luchow's from the north side of the street. On the corner of Irving Place was the Academy of Music, New York's most famous opera house until it was replaced by the Metropolitan, after which it became a legitimate theatre (Adelina Patti made her debut there in 1859; in 1910 the Sothern and Marlowe production of "Hamlet" ended the Academy's career as a playhouse).

●—●—●

Delmonico's deluxe restaurant was luring the carriage trade at the Fifth Ave. corner. Down the block, toward Third Ave., was the legendary Tony Pastor's, occupying the same building that quartered Tammany Hall. Nearer Third Ave., the street was lined with saloons and beer gardens, among them the gin mill of pugilist Tom Sharkey, a daily diner at Luchow's. Sharkey, incidentally, was forced to close his doors after a brush with the Committee of Fourteen, those self-appointed guardians of New York's public morals. . . . A few doors below Luchow's, at 48 Union Square, an immigrant furrier named Adolph Zukor was operating a penny peep show that was destined to expand into that colossus of the movie industry, Paramount Pictures. At a modest studio located in a converted residence at 11 E. 14th St. the American Mutuscope and Biograph Co. was giving screen tests to such young hopefuls as Mary Pickford and the Gish sisters. David Wark Griffith toiled there at $5 a day.

●—●—●

In a corner at Luchow's was initialed one of the first great deals of the motion picture business. Charles Kessel, lunching there with Griffith, induced the latter to sign with Triangle Films as a director at $500 per week. Griffith signed with the proviso that two of his favorite actors also be hired—De-Wolfe Hopper and Douglas Fairbanks. . . . In another period and in another corner, upstairs, that monster of the music world, ASCAP, was to be born.

We're Spending One Thousand Million Dollars...

to meet your growing needs for oil

THE JOB AHEAD is a big job, calling for big plans and big performance.

Right now Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) and its affiliates are modernizing and expanding production and facilities at the greatest rate in their history. Expenditures for 1947 and 1948 alone come to one billion dollars. That's a thousand million dollars!

It is reported that the oil industry as a whole will spend 13 billion dollars over the next few years to do this job.

Why? What's going on?

Last year, this country used more oil than the whole world did in 1939—before World War II.

You're getting 61% more oil products now than pre-war. You're getting 12% more than even the biggest war-time output.

3 million more cars on the road than pre-war—buses and trucks up 25 and 30%! And the average car is using 50 more gallons of gasoline a year than pre-war!

1,500,000 more homes are oil-heated than in 1939!

Farmers have doubled their use of time-saving, work-saving tractors, trucks, and other equipment since pre-war!

And this is all to the good. It spells progress. It's part of America's better and better living standards.

It's part of the amazing fact that oil has supplied 62% of this country's whole vast increase in use of fuel over the past 20 years—for industry, agriculture, homes, and transportation.

But it also means close figuring between present needs and present capacity. Even today's record output doesn't give the extra reserve of available supply we've always had in the American oil business. This will be true until the full effect of the new, expanded facilities is felt.

But the big new supply for your new need is on its way right now. Wells being drilled. Refineries, pipelines, storage tanks built. Billions of dollars working as fast and as hard as skill and resourcefulness and experience can make them work.

The better you live the more oil you need. And the oil for your needs is on the way!

Part Of Avenue To Be Widened

The Street Department was authorized yesterday by the Mayor and Council to widen Baltimore Avenue from Goethe to Weber Streets on the easterly side by using a grass plot for a roadway.

The action was taken after City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer submitted an estimate of $3,461.90 as the cost of a new sewer for the section. Earlier Rizer had estimated the street work at $7,126.35 to make a total cost of $10,126.35.

One Man Protests

James H. White, 459 Baltimore Avenue, in a letter protested against the work claiming that the change will lower property values.

The ordinance on Daylight Saving Time was amended and, as a result, fast time will start at 2 a. m. the last Sunday in April and continue until 1 a. m. the last Sunday in September until the ordinance is repealed.

Cumberland Lodge No. 212, International Association of Machinists, opposed Daylight Time, declaring that it serves no useful purpose and is sometimes a hardship.

Also by unanimous vote the Mayor and Council continued indefinitely a wage increase of five cents an hour for hourly Street and Water Department workers. The increase was voted last April and was effective for only a year.

Workers Sought Meeting

Municipal Employes Local 612, AFL, asked the council for a meeting concerning the old order. Mayor Thomas S. Post said he would notify the local of the council's action and presumed a meeting will not be necessary.

The George F. Hazelwood Company was given permission to pave an alley in the rear of the Schmidt Baking Company's Frederick Street property with concrete and blacktop. The work will be done under city supervision with the baking company paying the cost.

Commissioner Clifton E. Fuller asserted the city should secure an ambulance for emergency use. Commissioner William V. Keegan said he has already acted to get a vehicle which will be used as a patrol-ambulance.

The request of the Cumberland Blue Bolts football team to hold a carnival in the South End April 12-17, inclusive, was tabled pending the securing of more information.

Isner Named Policeman

A refund of $20.31 was ordered paid to Clarence Fletcher, 118 South Mechanic Street, for taxes paid in error on Lot 11, Braddock Road. It is located outside of the city limits.

The salary of Mrs. Gladys (Apple) Pitzer, recently named a public health nurse, was fixed at $2,196 yearly.

Edgar Allen Isner was named a probationary member of the Police Department starting today.

The bid of the Eiler Chevrolet Company of $2,161.40 for a one and one-half ton truck for the Water Department was accepted.

Junk Theft Probed

The theft of nearly five tons of scrap iron from a boxcar on a siding at the rear of Wineow Street, between Friday night and Saturday morning was being investigated by police yesterday.

Police were informed by Abe Feldstein, junk dealer, that between four and five tons of junk metal were taken from a boxcar he was loading near his yard, 128 Wineow Street.

To Discuss Inflation

The American Bankers' Association's anti-inflation program will be one of the main topics of discussion April 15 at the spring meeting of Group 1 of the Maryland Bankers' Association to be held at Ali Ghan Country Club. The group is composed of Allegany and Garrett County bankers.

C. & W. Transit Company Increases Bus Fares

Transportation fares on the Cumberland and Westernport Transit Company were increased Sunday, with all one-trip cash fares exceeding 35 cents being raised a nickel.

Ticket fares were also increased 10 to 15 per cent in cost. The Public Service Commission indicated that no protests were filed against the raise. The company operates buses between Cumberland and Westernport.

Meanwhile, no decision has been reached by the Public Service Commission on a request by the Emery Motor Coach Lines, Inc., for authority to increase its fares.

Emery buses operate between Cumberland and Keyser, and Piedmont, W. Va.

No Traffic Deaths During February

Counties of Allegany and Garrett experienced no traffic deaths during the month of February, a report of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission revealed Monday.

There were three persons reported injured in Allegany during the month, while Garrett had an accident-free 29 days.

During the month, Allegany reported a total of 13 accidents, two of them taking place at Lonaconing.

A total for the state showed 1,308 traffic accidents in February with 10 deaths and 586 persons injured. The death toll was down 66 per cent compared to the 29 deaths in February 1947; in fact Governor Lane announced that February, 1948, experienced the lowest number of highway deaths in February for any year of record.

Three Area Men Enlist In Army

Three area men were sent to Baltimore yesterday for processing after enlisting at the local Army and Air Force recruiting station, according to Capt. Laurence M. Bairstow, officer in charge.

They are James McKinley, 124 North Water Street, Keyser, W. Va., private first class, three years, Donald David Easter, Spring Gap, private, three years, Corps of Engineers; and Paul Adolph Shook, Green Spring, W. Va., corporal, three years, 772nd Military Police Battalion, Fort Meade. McKinley and Shook are Army veterans.

Advice To The Lovelorn

This Girl Isn't Ready To Make Up Mind About Marrying Anybody

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am nineteen and my boy friend is nearly twenty-one. We have gone steady for over a year. He is very much in love with me and has asked me to mary him, although we would have to wait quite a while till his jobe is established.

Recently I went on a trip with my parents and met several nice fellows. One of them sent me flowers and this naturally made my boy friend angry.

I think I could enjoy other fellows' company, yet I don't want to lose my boy friend either. He would break off completely if I accepted any other date. I enjoy his company and when I am with him, love him dearly and want to marry him some day, yet I occasionally wonder.

Shall I discourage other men and consider myself lucky to have such a nice fellow, or should I break his heart by breaking off completely with him?

"PERPLEXED"

Dear "Perplexed":

You're certainly not ready to make up your mind about marrying anybody yet. It's quite obvious that you're not really in love with this chap as a girl should be in love with a young man if she is going to promise to marry him.

Better for you to be free to go around with other boys for awhile. You would make a mistake to confine yourself to this one boy in your preasent state of mind. present state of mind.

Bernhardt Quits Ring

Bisons Are De-Horned

Ryan To Start Season

Sheehe Gets Even Break

By C. V. BURNS

Freddie Bernhardt, Akron, Ohio, welterweight, who fought a five-round draw with Freddie Squall of Pittsburgh, in last week's professional show at the State Armory, has announced his retirement from the ring.

Bernhardt, who has engaged in 100 fights over nine years, in announcing that he is hanging up the gloves for keeps, told Jim Schlemmer of the Akron Beacon Journal that he never was a champ or top-notcher but always tried to give the fans his best.

"I have a recurring back injury and also a bad right hand so I think it is best to call it quits," Bernhardt said.

Freddie is married and has two boys.

Joseph R. Basco, of Barberton, Ohio, who brought Bernhardt and Rudy Zadell here for his match with Sammy Angott, is pleased with the way Cumberland fans received Zadell who dropped a 10-round decision to the former lightweight champion.

"I am sure the boy lived up to everything I wrote about him and I do hope that I will get to show him again in Cumberland," Basco writes.

K. O. Circus of Pittsburgh, incidentally, was the first fighter Basco ever showed in Cumberland. Others were "Chuck" Burns, San Antonio light-heavy; Lloyd Pine, Akron lightweight, and Cleo McNeal, Canton, Ohio, welterweight.

Robert "Spike" Herboldsheimer, local arbiter, who attended an umpires' school in Florida during the winter months, denies the report that persons attending the school are subjected to a bottle barrage each day and those who escape a knockout qualify to be umpires in the tougher leagues where the spectators have good arms and their aim is true.

Our staff cartoonist attempts to portray above what an embarrassing position an umpire gets into when a "bottle barrage" takes place. As one ump told us last season: "It's too late to change to Calvert then."

No wonder Bedford High School didn't let us in on what happened in the inter-district playoff game at Davidsville, Pa. last Friday night. The score was Conemaugh High 62, Bedford 27.

In the Pennsylvania Class A quarter finals Conemaugh will meet Ford City tonight in Pittsburgh.

Leo Ryan will be ready for mound duty for the Westvaco Club when the Bi-State League campaign gets under way next month, according to word from Westernport.

Ryan visited a Baltimore hospital recently for a check-up on his injured shoulder and an operation was not considered advisable.

He won seven and lost two for the Papermakers in 1947.

According to word from Altoona, Wy Paris, manager of the Pennsy team tried to get at Wilbur Hoffman, official timer, after the Columbus Mariners scored a 38-37 overtime victory over Altoona on Friday night before 2,000 persons at Jaffa Mosque, thus winding up the series between the All-American Pro Basketball League clubs.

The argument raised by Paris was that the winning basket made by Sweetwater Clifton, giant center of the Ohioans, was not in the air before the gun went off. The timer ruled that the ball was in the air before the gun was fired and an Altoona writer says that everyone but Paris agreed that the goal was good.

John "Jack" Sheehe of Oakland had a successful season as a member of Coach Leo Houck's Penn State boxing team, winning four, losing four and fighting one draw in nine starts.

Sheehe, a junior, boxing in the 165 pound division, defeated Lichty of Western Maryland; Walters of Bucknell; Holcomb of Virginia, and Tannell of the Coast Guard. He drew with Puckett of Army and lost to Dickerson of Wisconsin, Bongo of Syracuse, Tierney of Michigan State and Basil Miragliotta of Virginia.

That's a good record for a junior's first full year as a member of Penn State's team which usually faces the toughest schedule in the collegiate ranks.

Duke Wyre, head trainer at the University of Maryland coached the 1947 Yale University rugby team that toured Bermuda.

The withdrawal of Paw Paw High School changes the name of the loop from Tri-State to Bi-State because only Maryland and Pennsylvania teams will compete during the coming season.

John Meyers represented Central at last night's session. Brother Gregory, director of athletics and Coach Art Garbark represented LaSalle; Ed McVicker, Hyndman (Pa.) High, James Weimer, Fort Hill; Hubert Radcliffe, Allegany, and Edward Finzel, Beall High.

Speedway President Wilbur Shaw said heavy early entries indicated 60 cars might be nominated for the 33-car field before the filing deadline at midnight, April 15.

Improved Pitching, Plus Power, Plus Keller May Make Yanks Potent In Title Defense

LOPAT . . . thanks to the Chisox.

SOUCHOK . strength at first?

HILLER . . . he could be it.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla — Definitely improved over last year when they galloped away from the rest of the league and went on in true Yankee fashion to win the world's championship, the New York Yankees appear set to repeat this year.

That is the humble opinion of the writer, of course, but before jumping on another entry's bandwagon consider these salient factors:

1. The Yanks really have a pitching staff this year.

2. Charlie Keller, the Ruthian slugger who played in only 45 games last season, looks fit as a three-year-old colt on Derby Day.

3. The same solid senders are around and apparently just as formidable as Yankee uniforms continue to make them.

Watching Joltin' Joe DiMaggio, minus the heel trouble of a year ago, smash them out in batting practice; watching Keller breaking the outfielders' backs chasing them and counting up the pitchers ready for the battle one cannot help pitying the rest of the league, improved clubs that they may be.

Genial Bucky Harris, the Yankee manager, tones down the enthusiasm, naturally, in this fashion: "I hope we do as well as last year."

Much, of course, will depend on Keller's comeback. According to Harris, the doctor's reports are "very encouraging." Charlie himself says he feels fine and while he hasn't done much running yet, he's working out as he sees fit, given permission by Harris to do as he pleases. Keller has been in Florida since January, helping out at George Stirnweiss' school there.

* * *

THE YANKS made two deals since last fall that have given them two good starting pitchers. One was with Cleveland, with Red Embree coming over. The second, and a very important one for the Yanks, was securing Ed Lopat, star lefthander of the White Sox, who won 16 games for that sixth-place club last year. The Yanks gave up Rookie Pitcher Bill Wight, Pitcher Fred Bradley and Catcher Aaron Robinson.

Wight was a surprised player when he arrived in St. Pete after driving from his California home. He had been traded to the White Sox and word failed to reach him. He drove right back to the coast.

Peddling of Robinson relieves some pressure, for Robbie was in Harris' dog-house as first shown up in the world series last fall.

It also adds a burden on Yogi Berra, the hard-hitting youngster who Harris says will do nothing but catching this year.

About the only fight on the club will be for the first base job. George McQuinn, the veteran who came back last year, wasn't in camp on this writer's visit for he was holding out. But the boy who may win the spot from him, Steve Souchock, was, and kind words were spoken about him.

Of Souchock the Yank manager says:

"He looks very good. He's really going to make it rough for somebody."

Souchock, a 6-foot-3-inch right handed hitter, batted .294 for Kansas City last year.

The other first base candidate, big Jack Phillips, one of the most likeable guys in camp, is being given some work at shortstop.

Harris could always fall back on Tommy Henrich, the great right fielder, if he needs to, for Tommy has played first and well, too.

Another contender for first may be Bobby Brown, the high-class infield sensation last spring who was the pinch-hitting hero of the world series. Brown, studying to be a doctor, is in the third year at Tulane Medical school and was given permission to report late.

The second base combination of George Stirnweiss and Phil Rizzuto is back as usual and third base is fortified by hard-hitting Billy Johnson.

* * *

THE OUTFIELD can't be matched in either league with Keller or big Johnny Lindell in left, DiMaggio in center and Henrich in right. Cliff Mapes and Ed Stewart, who had good years with Kansas City, also are fine prospects but find their starting chances blocked by the available talent.

Six catchers are on the roster with Berra rating No. 1, followed by Sherman Lollar, Ralph Houk and Gus Niarhos. The last-named had a good year with Kansas City, batting .321.

"We plan to carry about 11 pitchers," says Harris, "and we have seen all our young boys."

With Allie Reynolds, Frank Shea and Ed Lopat all capable of winning 20 games, the Yanks are solid with first-line flingers. Then there is Floyd Bevens, who pitched that one-hitter in the series, and Spud Chandler, former ace of the Yankee staff.

Chandler, who had arm trouble last year, underwent an operation and had bone chips removed from his elbow. He says he's really all right now and, unlike another spring, when he had chips removed, he doesn't get tired.

Holdovers from last year are Vic Raschi, who developed late but won seven games; Karl Drews, who won six; Randy Gumpert, who won four, and Don Johnson.

Old reliable Joe Page, the fireman, is on hand for relief duty.

Of the newcomers Tommy Byrne won 12 for Kansas City, Frank Hiller won 15 for the same club, and Clarence Marshall won 11, also for the same team.

Page was slightly injured in camp the first week and DiMag wears a handball glove because of blisters but outside of that the squad is in good shape.

Old Frank Crosetti, still on the playing roster, has created the amazement in camp. Harris proudly tells you to watch him—he'll surprise you with his work—without crutches.

Ridgeley And South End Cop "Y" Overtime Games

Cumberland Legion, Keyser Moose Win

Two overtime contests in which the Ridgeley Brokers and the South End Merchants were returned the victors feature semi-final round play in the Central YMCA-Junior Association of Commerce basketball tournament last night on the "Y" court.

The Ridgeley Brokers marched into the finals of the 135-pound class by defeating Ballard's in an extra period, 36-34.

"Bud" Jewell's basket tied the score at end of the regulation game, 31-31, after Jim Collins had missed a lay-up with 30 second to play.

Phil Crist's fielder and foul opened the overtime session but Jewell's lay-up and Mike Lehman's foul conversion knotted the count at 34-34 with a minute to go. Then Howard Rhodes sank a set shot to give Ridgeley victory.

Tucker's Goal Decides

South End's Merchants eked out a 25-23 decision over the Variety Five in the second game on the evening's card. Baskets by Shaw and Bratt of the Variety Five tied the score at 23-all and sent the game into an overtime period. Edgar "Barney" Tucker's lay-up with 1:30 left in the extra period won the game for the Merchants.

In the junior unlimited semi-final, Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion, eliminated the Cadillac Lounge, 29-23. The Loungers staged a great rally in the final quarter but were unable to overtake their opponents who held a 25-13 advantage when the third stanza closed. Lilya of Fort Cumberland and Lattimer of Cadillac topped the scorers with 11 points each.

With Jones and Clevenger showing the way with 13 and 11 markers, the Keyser Moose quint advanced to the senior class finals by downing the Fourth District Democratic Club, 39-35. Calhoun headed the losers with 12 points to his credit.

Kentucky Given Edge Over Baylor In NCAA Battle

Wildcats, Bears Meet Tonight In New York

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Kentucky's polished Wildcats probably will rate from a seven-to-ten point favorite over Baylor's Bears Tuesday in their game for the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) basketball championship.

Kentucky, winner of the NCAA eastern title here Saturday while Baylor was outscrapping the western field in Kansas City, holds an edge over the Bears in practically every department of play.

The Wildcats had a season's record of 31 wins and two defeats, counting play in the Southeastern Conference tourament which they won, compared with Baylor's 21-5.

Through the season Kentucky averaged 69.1 points a game to 48.8 for the Southwest Conference kings. Defensively, the Cats also were superior, limiting opponents to an average of 42.8 points compared with Baylor's 44.2.

But Kentucky's biggest margin over its NCAA finals foe is in the impressiveness of its victories.

Kentucky averaged 26.3 points a game more than its opponents while Baylor squeaked through with a 4.6 average margin.

The Wildcats have two of the leading scorers in Alex Groza, with 385 points, and Ralph Beard, with 378.

Balyor's top point-maker is James Owens with 227 for the season.

In the preliminary consolation game at Madison Square Garden, Holy Cross, the runnerup to Kentucky in the eastern playoffs, will rule a favorite over Kansas State, western runnerup.

Sterling performances of two pitchers stimulated the pennant hopes of Boston baseball fans Monday.

Mickey Harris of the Red Sox, who was troubled with a sore arm last season, was credited with the 4-0 shutout racked up by his mates at the expense of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Johnny Beazley, the old Cardinal now wearing the spangles of the Braves, held the Detroit Tigers to one run in six innings, the Braves winning 2 to 1.

The world's champion New York Yankees took a 7-6 verdict from Cincinnati in ten innings.

The New York Giants shaded Pittsburgh's Pirates, 3 to 2.

Three major league outfits won from minor league opponents. The Phillies downed Kansas City, 5-2; the White Sox drubbed Oakland, 4-1; and the Cubs swamped San Francisco, 9-0.

Capital City Amateurs Lose Four Straight

Cherrie, Taranto Win; 495 See 8-Bout Card

Lew Kozarek, sharp-punching middleweight of Portage, Pa., belted out Robert "Red" Howard, of the Merrick Boys' Club, Washington, D. C., in 1:36 of the fifth and final round of their match featuring St. Mary's Athletic Club amateur boxing show last night at the State Armory.

Kozarek carried "too many guns" for the capital city boy who tried to quit as early as the third round when his repeated hanging on in the clinches caused Lew to lose his temper and throw the red-headed Washingtonian to the floor.

Referee Jack Rorick instructed the judges to take two points from Kozarek's total for giving his foe the "grand slam" and when Howard came off the floor the Pennsylvanian belted him around like nobody's business with left jabs and right crosses until a crushing right put Bob down for the full count in the fifth. Howard started up at the count of seven but he failed to regain his feet before the referee reached ten.

Howard's defeat was the fourth straight of the evening for the Merrick Boys' Club of Washington, D. C., while of Kozarek's triumph was the third in four matches for the Portage (Pa.) Athletic Club team.

Cherrie, Taranto Score

In the first Portage-Washington duel, Terry Cherrie, Pennsy lightweight, won 2-1 verdict over Matt Eshaves in three bitterly fought rounds. The boys liked the going so well they were hammering each other after the final gong.

Frankie Taranto, Portage lightweight, took the measure of George Eckert, of Washington, in another inter-city match. The Keystone Stater won by a 3-0 vote.

The Lafferty boys from St. Mary's A. C. both were returned winners on last night's card.

"Sonny," the flyweight, gained a 2-1 decision over John Choby, of Portage, Pa., and Bill, the 140-pounder, won from Tommy Jones, of Washington, in a bout in which both boys tired badly in the final round.

In the curtain raiser, "Tiny" Deetz outpointed Bobby Walker, a newcomer to the amateur ranks.

Melvin Washington had no trouble in whipping Bill Nield, a game novice 141 pounder from St. Mary's, while in another local match, Russell Bean took a lacing from Jimmie Folk, 124-pounder from Grantsville, Md. Folk scored a knockdown in the first round and belted his opponent quite freely in the final stanza to grab the 3-0 verdict.

495 Pay To See Show

The show arranged by Matchmaker "Bobby" Green attracted a crowd of 495 paying customers.

Jack Rorick refereed all matches with Gilbert Becker and Howard "Red" Bush as the judges, "Bobby" Cavanaugh, timer, and Nelson W. Russler, announcer.

It was announced that Jim Files and Johnny Tressler, heavyweights, who were introduced, will appear on the Diamond A. C. card next Monday night at the State Armory. Announcement also was made that the Century A. C. will hold a show at the Junior Order Skating Rink, Frostburg, Thursday, March 25.

Bernhardt Quits Ring

Bisons Are De-Horned

Ryan To Start Season

Sheehe Gets Even Break

By C. V. BURNS

Freddie Bernhardt, Akron, Ohio, welterweight, who fought a five-round draw with Freddie Squall of Pittsburgh, in last week's professional show at the State Armory, has announced his retirement from the ring.

Bernhardt, who has engaged in 100 fights over nine years, in announcing that he is hanging up the gloves for keeps, told Jim Schlemmer of the Akron Beacon Journal that he never was a champ or top-notcher but always tried to give the fans his best.

"I have a recurring back injury and also a bad right hand so I think it is best to call it quits," Bernhardt said.

Freddie is married and has two boys.

Joseph R. Basco, of Barberton, Ohio, who brought Bernhardt and Rudy Zadell here for his match with Sammy Angott, is pleased with the way Cumberland fans received Zadell who dropped a 10-round decision to the former lightweight champion.

"I am sure the boy lived up to everything I wrote about him and I do hope that I will get to show him again in Cumberland," Basco writes.

K. O. Circus of Pittsburgh, incidentally, was the first fighter Basco ever showed in Cumberland. Others were "Chuck" Burns, San Antonio light-heavy; Lloyd Pine, Akron lightweight, and Cleo McNeal, Canton, Ohio, welterweight.

Robert "Spike" Herboldsheimer, local arbiter, who attended an umpires' school in Florida during the winter months, denies the report that persons attending the school are subjected to a bottle barrage each day and those who escape a knockout qualify to be umpires in the tougher leagues where the spectators have good arms and their aim is true.

Our staff cartoonist attempts to portray above what an embarrassing position an umpire gets into when a "bottle barrage" takes place. As one ump told us last season: "It's too late to change to Calvert then."

No wonder Bedford High School didn't let us in on what happened in the inter-district playoff game at Davidsville, Pa. last Friday night. The score was Conemaugh High 62, Bedford 27.

In the Pennsylvania Class A quarter finals Conemaugh will meet Ford City tonight in Pittsburgh.

Leo Ryan will be ready for mound duty for the Westvaco Club when the Bi-State League campaign gets under way next month, according to word from Westernport.

Ryan visited a Baltimore hospital recently for a check-up on his injured shoulder and an operation was not considered advisable.

He won seven and lost two for the Papermakers in 1947.

According to word from Altoona, Wy Paris, manager of the Pennsy team tried to get at Wilbur Hoffman, official timer, after the Columbus Mariners scored a 38-37 overtime victory over Altoona on Friday night before 2,000 persons at Jaffa Mosque, thus winding up the series between the All-American Pro Basketball League clubs.

The argument raised by Paris was that the winning basket made by Sweetwater Clifton, giant center of the Ohioans, was not in the air before the gun went off. The timer ruled that the ball was in the air before the gun was fired and an Altoona writer says that everyone but Paris agreed that the goal was good.

John "Jack" Sheehe of Oakland had a successful season as a member of Coach Leo Houck's Penn State boxing team, winning four, losing four and fighting one draw in nine starts.

Sheehe, a junior, boxing in the 165 pound division, defeated Lichty of Western Maryland; Walters of Bucknell; Holcomb of Virginia, and Brannell of the Coast Guard. He drew with Puckett of Army and lost to Dickerson of Wisconsin, Bongo of Syracuse, Tierney of Michigan State and Basil Miragliotta of Virginia.

That's a good record for a junior's first full year as a member of Penn State's team which usually faces the toughest schedule in the collegiate ranks.

Duke Wyre, head trainer at the University of Maryland coached the 1947 Yale University rugby team that toured Bermuda.

Improved Pitching, Plus Power, Plus Keller May Make Yanks Potent In Title Defense

LOPAT . . . thanks to the Chisox.

HILLER . . . he could be it.

SOUCHOK . strength at first?

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla — Definitely improved over last year when they galloped away from the rest of the league and went on in true Yankee fashion to win the world's championship, the New York Yankees appear set to repeat this year.

That is the humble opinion of the writer, of course, but before jumping on another entry's bandwagon consider these salient factors:

1. The Yanks really have a pitching staff this year.

2. Charlie Keller, the Ruthian slugger who played in only 45 games last season, looks fit as a three-year-old colt on Derby Day.

3. The same solid senders are around and apparently just as formidable as Yankee uniforms continue to make them.

Watching Joltin' Joe DiMaggio, minus the heel trouble of a year ago, smash them out in batting practice; watching Keller breaking the outfielders' backs chasing them and counting up the pitchers ready for the battle one cannot help pitying the rest of the league, improved clubs that they may be.

Genial Bucky Harris, the Yankee manager, tones down the enthusiasm, naturally, in this fashion: "I hope we do as well as last year."

Much, of course, will depend on Keller's comeback. According to Harris, the doctor's reports are "very encouraging." Charlie himself says he feels fine and while he hasn't done much running yet, he's working out as he sees fit, given permission by Harris to do as he pleases. Keller has been in Florida since January, helping out at George Stirnweiss' school there.

• • •

THE YANKS made two deals since last fall that have given them two good starting pitchers. One was with Cleveland, with Red Embree coming over. The second, and a very important one for the Yanks, was securing Ed Lopat, star lefthander of the White Sox, who won 16 games for that sixth-place club last year. The Yanks gave up Rookie Pitcher Bill Wight, Pitcher Fred Bradley and Catcher Aaron Robinson.

Wight was a surprised player when he arrived in St. Pete after driving from his California home. He had been traded to the White Sox and word failed to reach him. He drove right back to the coast.

Peddling of Robinson relieves some pressure, for Robbie was in Harris' dog-house as first shown up in the world series last fall.

It also adds a burden on Yogi Berra, the hard-hitting youngster who Harris says will do nothing but catching this year.

About the only fight on the club will be for the first base job. George McQuinn, the veteran who came back last year, wasn't in camp on this writer's visit for he was holding out. But the boy who may win the spot from him, Steve Souchock, was, and kind words were spoken about him.

Of Souchock the Yank manager says:

"He looks very good. He's really going to make it rough for somebody."

Souchock, a 6-foot-3-inch right handed hitter, batted .294 for Kansas City last year.

The other first base candidate, big Jack Phillips, one of the most likeable guys in camp, is being given some work at shortstop.

Harris could always fall back on Tommy Henrich, the great right fielder, if he needs to, for Tommy has played first and well, too.

Another contender for first may be Bobby Brown, the high-class infield sensation last spring who was the pinch-hitting hero of the world series. Brown, studying to be a doctor, is in the third year at Tulane Medical school and was given permission to report late.

The second base combination of George Stirnweiss and Phil Rizzuto is back as usual and third base is fortified by hard-hitting Billy Johnson.

• • •

THE OUTFIELD can't be matched in either league with Keller or big Johnny Lindell in left, DiMaggio in center and Henrich in right. Cliff Mapes and Ed Stewart, who had good years with Kansas City, also are fine prospects but find their starting chances blocked by the available talent.

Six catchers are on the roster with Berra rating No. 1, followed by Sherman Lollar, Ralph Houk and Gus Niarhos. The last-named had a good year with Kansas City, batting .321.

"We plan to carry about 11 pitchers," says Harris, "and we have seen all our young boys."

With Allie Reynolds, Frank Shea and Ed Lopat all capable of winning 20 games, the Yanks are solid with first-line flingers. Then there is Floyd Bevens, who pitched that one-hitter in the series, and Spud Chandler, former ace of the Yankee staff.

Chandler, who had arm trouble last year, underwent an operation and had bone chips removed from his elbow. He says he's really all right now and, unlike another spring, when he had chips removed, he doesn't get tired.

Holdovers from last year are Vic Raschi, who developed late but won seven games; Karl Drews, who won six; Randy Gumpert, who won four, and Don Johnson.

Old reliable Joe Page, the fireman, is on hand for relief duty.

Of the newcomers Tommy Byrne won 12 for Kansas City, Frank Hiller won 15 for the same club, and Clarence Marshall won 11, also for the same team.

Page was slightly injured in camp the first week and DiMag wears a handball glove because of blisters but outside of that the squad is in good shape.

Old Frank Crosetti, still on the playing roster, has created the amazement in camp. Harris proudly tells you to watch him—he'll surprise you with his work—without crutches.

Ridgeley And South End Cop "Y" Overtime Games

Cumberland Legion, Keyser Moose Win

Two overtime contests in which the Ridgeley Brokers and the South End Merchants were returned the victors feature semi-final round play in the Central YMCA-Junior Association of Commerce basketball tournament last night on the "Y" court.

The Ridgeley Brokers marched into the finals of the 135-pound class by defeating Ballard's in an extra period, 36-34.

"Bud" Jewell's basket tied the score at end of the regulation game, 31-31, after Jim Collins had missed a lay-up with 30 second to play.

Phil Crist's fielder and foul opened the overtime session but Jewell's lay-up and Mike Lehman's foul conversion knotted the count at 34-34 with a minute to go. Then Howard Rhodes sank a set shot to give Ridgeley victory.

Tucker's Goal Decides

South End's Merchants eked out a 25-23 decision over the Variety Five in the second game on the evening's card. Baskets by Shaw and Bratt of the Variety Five tied the score at 23-all and sent the game into an overtime period. Edgar "Barney" Tucker's lay-up with 1:30 left in the extra period won the game for the Merchants.

In the junior unlimited semi-final, Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion, eliminated the Cadillac Lounge, 29-23. The Loungers staged a great rally in the final quarter but were unable to overtake their opponents who held a 25-13 advantage when the third stanza closed. Lilya of Fort Cumberland and Lattimer of Cadillac topped the scorers with 11 points each.

With Jones and Clevenger showing the way with 13 and 11 markers, the Keyser Moose quint advanced to the senior class finals by downing the Fourth District Democratic Club, 39-35. Calhoun headed the losers with 12 points to his credit.

Kentucky Given Edge Over Baylor In NCAA Battle

Wildcats, Bears Meet Tonight In New York

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Kentucky's polished Wildcats probably will rate from a seven-to-ten point favorite over Baylor's Bears Tuesday in their game for the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) basketball championship.

Kentucky, winner of the NCAA eastern title here Saturday while Baylor was outscrapping the western field in Kansas City, holds an edge over the Bears in practically every department of play.

The Wildcats had a season's record of 31 wins and two defeats, counting play in the Southeastern Conference tourament which they won, compared with Baylor's 21-5.

Through the season Kentucky averaged 69.1 points a game to 48.8 for the Southwest Conference kings. Defensively, the Cats also were superior, limiting opponents to an average of 42.8 points compared with Baylor's 44.2.

But Kentucky's biggest margin over its NCAA finals foe is in the impressiveness of its victories.

Kentucky averaged 26.3 points a game more than its opponents while Baylor squeaked through with a 4.6 average margin.

The Wildcats have two of the leading scorers in Alex Groza, with 385 points, and Ralph Beard, with 378.

Balyor's top point-maker is James Owens with 227 for the season.

In the preliminary consolation game at Madison Square Garden, Holy Cross, the runnerup to Kentucky in the eastern playoffs, will rule a favorite over Kansas State, western runnerup.

Al Nixon, graduate manager of athletics at NYU, accepted the bid after conferring with the athletic board.

St. Louis withdrew from the Olympics field last night after the university's athletic board ruled the athletes should not leave their studies.

Johnny Beazley Stars As Braves Beat Tigers, 2-1

Mickey Harris Wins Over Cardinals 4-0

(By International News Service)

Sterling performances of two pitchers stimulated the pennant hopes of Boston baseball fans Monday.

Mickey Harris of the Red Sox, who was troubled with a sore arm last season, was credited with the 4-0 shutout racked up by his mates at the expense of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Johnny Beazley, the old Cardinal now wearing the spangles of the Braves, held the Detroit Tigers to one run in six innings, the Braves winning 2 to 1.

The world's champion New York Yankees took a 7-6 verdict from Cincinnati in ten innings.

The New York Giants shaded Pittsburgh's Pirates, 3 to 2.

Three major league outfits won from minor league opponents. The Phillies downed Kansas City, 5-2; the White Sox drubbed Oakland, 4-1; and the Cubs swamped San Francisco, 9-0.

Capital City Amateurs Lose Four Straight

Cherrie, Taranto Win; 495 See 8-Bout Card

Lew Kozarek, sharp-punching middleweight of Portage, Pa., belted out Robert "Red" Howard, of the Merrick Boys' Club, Washington, D. C., in 1:36 of the fifth and final round of their match featuring St. Mary's Athletic Club amateur boxing show last night at the State Armory.

Kozarek carried "too many guns" for the capital city boy who tried to quit as early as the third round when his repeated hanging on in the clinches caused Lew to lose his temper and throw the red-headed Washingtonian to the floor.

Referee Jack Rorick instructed the judges to take two points from Kozarek's total for giving his foe the "grand slam" and when Howard came off the floor the Pennsylvanian belted him around like nobody's business with left jabs and right crosses until a crushing right put Bob down for the full count in the fifth. Howard started up at the count of seven but he failed to regain his feet before the referee reached ten.

Howard's defeat was the fourth straight of the evening for the Merrick Boys' Club of Washington, D. C., while of Kozarek's triumph was the third in four matches for the Portage (Pa.) Athletic Club team.

Cherrie, Taranto Score

In the first Portage-Washington duel, Terry Cherrie, Pennsy lightweight, won 2-1 verdict over Matt Eshaves in three bitterly fought rounds. The boys liked the going so well they were hammering each other after the final gong.

Frankie Taranto, Portage lightweight, took the measure of George Eckert, of Washington, in another inter-city match. The Keystone Stater won by a 3-0 vote.

The Lafferty boys from St. Mary's A. C. both were returned winners on last night's card.

"Sonny," the flyweight, gained a 2-1 decision over John Choby, of Portage, Pa., and Bill, the 140-pounder, won from Tommy Jones, of Washington, in a bout in which both boys tired badly in the final round.

In the curtain raiser, "Tiny" Deets outpointed Bobby Walker, a newcomer to the amateur ranks.

Melvin Washington had no trouble in whipping Bill Nield, a game novice 141 pounder from St. Mary's, while in another local match, Russell Bean took a lacing from Jimmie Folk, 124-pounder from Grantsville, Md. Folk scored a knockdown in the first round and belted his opponent quite freely in the final stanza to grab the 3-0 verdict.

495 Pay To See Show

The show arranged by Matchmaker "Bobby" Green attracted a crowd of 495 paying customers.

Jack Rorick refereed all matches with Gilbert Becker and Howard "Red" Bush as the judges, "Bobby" Cavanaugh, timer, and Nelson W. Russler, announcer.

It was announced that Jim Files and Johnny Tressler, heavyweights, who were introduced, will appear on the Diamond A. C. card next Monday night at the State Armory. Announcement also was made that the Century A. C. will hold a show at the Junior Order Skating Rink, Frostburg, Thursday, March 25.

Sluss To Enter Frostburg City Council Race

Army Veteran To File Today

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG.—William W. Sluss, Jr., 104 West Loo Street, a trustee and past exalted ruler of Frostburg Lodge of Elks and president of the Frostburg Lions Club, announced that he would file today as a candidate for city commissioner in the city election to be held April 6.

A veteran of World War II, Sluss served 51 months in the Army, 26 months of which were spent in the CBI theater of operations. Since returning to civilian life he has joined the American Legion, Veteran of Foreign Wars, and the Second Corps Army Advisory Committee.

A married man and the father of two children, Sluss stated that welfare of the children of the community is his foremost interest. He also stated that he would give particular attention to matters benefiting war veterans.

A graduate of Beall High School in the class of 1930, Sluss was employed by the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company for 14 months, relinquishing his job to attend Strayer College of Accountancy. Since returning from war service, he has been engaged with his father in the grocery business here.

To Open Practice

Dr. Adolph Wolfermann and his wife, Mrs. Pierette Wolfermann, Sabillasville, were here Sunday completing arrangements for locating in Frostburg. Dr. Wolfermann will return April 4 and expects to begin practicing medicine here about April 10.

Midland Group Denies Refusing To Aid Red Cross

Fire Auxiliary Issues Statement

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Midland Fire Company in a prepared statement denied refusing to aid the Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross but said they declined to solicit funds during the annual money-raising campaign.

"We are taking this means to deny that the remark 'What has the Red Cross ever done for us?' was made at the meeting," the members stated, adding "x x x there were only seven members present at the meeting when the action was taken."

When the auxiliary action was reported, the News carried a story quoting Mrs. Gertrude Smith, Midland Branch chairman of the county chapter of the Red Cross.

"x x x the impression given was that the auxiliary had refused to help the Red Cross when we actually refused to solicit. There was no explanation offered as to why we refused," the statement reads.

"When the representative of the Red Cross (Mrs. Smith) explained that Red Cross does not give medical aid one member asked 'What does the Red Cross do?' and not 'What has Red Cross done for us?'

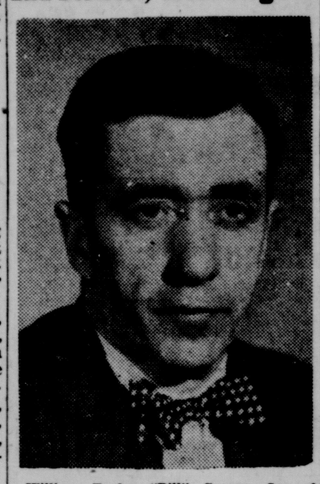

"This is the first year the Ladies Auxiliary was ever asked to solicit, contrary to the report that we had canvassed in previous years.

"If the matter had been brought to the regular monthly meeting on March 3 it could have been discussed and voted upon, but it was left until the night before the campaign ended.

"The auxiliary has always given to the Red Cross as a group and as individuals, because we consider the Red Cross a very worthy cause and would have been willing to help if we had been given ample time to plan soliciting, although it has always been the practice of the campaign chairman to appoint his own committee from the community rather than from an organization.

"We have always contributed to all charities and we cannot understand why our organization was publicly criticized for refusing to solicit when the paper stated the Red Cross officials had trouble in finding a chairman and in obtaining assistance for canvassing."

George is making an aggressive scrap for the nomination and says that he is "uncontrolled, unafraid, unbossed and unslated," and believes that the Democrats in the Second District have the mental capacity to select their own nominee for Congress without any directive from outside the District and has an abiding faith in the State Motto . . Midland Group Denies Refusing To Aid Red Cross

Fire Auxiliary Issues Statement

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Midland Fire Company in a prepared statement denied refusing to aid the Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross but said they declined to solicit funds during the annual money-raising campaign.

"We are taking this means to deny that the remark 'What has the Red Cross ever done for us?' was made at the meeting," the members stated, adding "x x x there were only seven members present at the meeting when the action was taken."

When the auxiliary action was reported, the News carried a story quoting Mrs. Gertrude Smith, Midland Branch chairman of the county chapter of the Red Cross.

"x x x the impression given was that the auxiliary had refused to help the Red Cross when we actually refused to solicit. There was no explanation offered as to why we refused," the statement reads.

"When the representative of the Red Cross (Mrs. Smith) explained that Red Cross does not give medical aid one member asked 'What does the Red Cross do?' and not 'What has Red Cross done for us?'

"This is the first year the Ladies Auxiliary was ever asked to solicit, contrary to the report that we had canvassed in previous years.

"If the matter had been brought to the regular monthly meeting on March 3 it could have been discussed and voted upon, but it was left until the night before the campaign ended.

"The auxiliary has always given to the Red Cross as a group and as individuals, because we consider the Red Cross a very worthy cause and would have been willing to help if we had been given ample time to plan soliciting, although it has always been the practice of the campaign chairman to appoint his own committee from the community rather than from an organization.

"We have always contributed to all charities and we cannot understand why our organization was publicly criticized for refusing to solicit when the paper stated the Red Cross officials had trouble in finding a chairman and in obtaining assistance for canvassing."

Candidate for Congress
2nd District, West Virginia

William Taylor "Bill" George, Jr., of Phillipi, Barbour County, West Virginia, a lawyer and legislator, has announced his candidacy for the nomination for Congress in the Second Congressional District. George is making an aggressive scrap for the nomination and says that he is "uncontrolled, unafraid, unbossed and unslated," and believes that the Democrats in the Second District have the mental capacity to select their own nominee for Congress without any directive from outside the District and has an abiding faith in the State Motto . . "Mountaineers Are Always Free."

Bridge Situation Is Unchanged

No definite action has been reported to date on a request by the Mayor and Council last month that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad "arrange immediately for some change on the construction" of the Washington and Fayette Street bridges.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan, in a letter to H. F. Wyatt, Cumberland Division superintendent, proposed elimination "of the present hazard existing in the form of the center span or buttress."

No further conferences have been arranged between the railroad and city officials, Wyatt said last night. Fixing of responsibility for construction has not been determined.

HOLLYWOOD, March 22 (INS)—Olivia De Havilland will join all the Juliets who have played in Shakespeare's love story, "Romeo and Juliet," on Broadway. Katharine Cornell, Ethel Barrymore, Jane Cowl and countless others on the stage and Norma Shearer, on the screen, were Juliets to remember.

Lorella Parsons

Now, Olivia, who hopes Michael Redgrave will play Romeo, is planning to discuss Juliet in New York. At this point, there is no definite arrangement, but you know without my telling you, that any Broadway producer would give his eye teeth, so to speak, to sign last year's Academy Award winner.

I am not surprised that Clifton Webb wants to keep Belvedere, the baby sitter in "Sitting Pretty," alive. The criticisms are wonderful, and people who have gone to previews here have actually fallen out of their seats with laughter. It is so funny.

The sequel to "Sitting Pretty," is called "Mr. Belvedere Goes To College." It is by Mary McCall and will be produced by Sam Engel. Belvedere, who does everything, wins a literary prize for his book, which he is ineligible to accept because the winner has to be a college graduate. Well, if you have seen "Sitting Pretty" you know he goes through college and gets that prize.

I didn't think Gertrude Niesen would get out to Hollywood for a night club date without putting her signature on a movie deal.

Sure enough, Gertie moves out of the Florentine Gardens right onto the set of "The Babe Ruth Story" in a featured role, but the main thing is that she will sing the Babe's three favorite tunes of all time, "Nobody's Baby," "The Vamp" and "Singing in the Rain."

Song stylists may come and song stylists may go—but Gertie has a way of putting over a number that has kept her a headliner for years.

•—•—•

Adolphe Menjou was out making appearances with his book, "It Took Nine Tailors," when he got a call from Mike Curtiz to come back and play a part in "My Dream Is You." So Adolphe, who is still one of the best-dressed men in our town, is returning for the Curtiz picture.

When I see the 10 best dressed on this and that, I am reminded that I was the first to name the 10 best dressed men, and Menjou was in that list, and he's been in that list practically every year since. That was over 20 years ago.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Kathleen Winsor and Artie Shaw are selling their Connecticut home. Bill Holden has to start a picture May 1, so he will not be able to go to Europe with Ronald Reagan on that Screen Actors' Guild jaunt.

The Sol Lessers will observve their 25th wedding anniversary March 26, by staging a big western barbecue at Palm Springs.

Also celebrating a wedding anniversary at Palm Springs were Rosie Dolly and Irving Netcher—16 years of married life.

Gene Autry, who was discovered by Will Rogers in Chelsea, Okla., where he was a telegraph operator, will go there this month for a big celebration.

Gar Wood, famous racer, will play himself in "The Fabulous Hoosier," based on the life of the late Carl Fischer.

Natalie Draper and Ivan Goff leave for Rome next month on a honeymoon. While there they will see "Portrait In Black," the play Ivan wrote and which is now running in Italy.

Shirley Temple and John Agar go to Chicago, March 28, for the opening of "Fort Apache," The proceeds go to the Chicago Herald-American for wounded war veterans.

Helmut Dantine is making a deal with an independent producer to make "The Checkered Coat" which will be released through 20th.

Charley Foy hasn't spoken a word in 48 hours. Can't—because he's got laryngitis. And, believe me, that Frisco is enjoying the whole thing, because Charley can't answer back.

Lady Mendl will make an appearance as a speaker at the 17th annual conference of American Institute of Decorators, at the Beverly Hills Hotel, March 30. What a wonderful and gallant lady she is.

Buddy Rogers is taking rumba lessons for a scene in Madeleine Carroll's movie.

Gene Fowler expects to have the book on Jimmy Walker finished by August. It is due for publication in January.

That's all today.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Leap Year and the Presidency

Nineteen forty-eight is both an election and a Leap Year, and, while the year is yet young, the two subjects are already pretty well exhausted by the comedians. Jimmy Durante and Gracie Allen have been after the Presidency even longer than Thomas E. Dewey. Eddie Cantor and Vera Vague, honorary mayor of Woodland Hills, Calif., also have their hats in the ring, Cantor being the more active campaigner of the two. A marionette on a television show in New York called—as God is my judge—"Howdy Doody" has entered the race too.

Not heard from yet—by me, at least—are Jack Benny, Fred Allen and Bob Hope, the well known mayor of Palm Springs. They haven't declared themselves out of the race; they just haven't said anything one way or another. Time was when a comedian pined to play Hamlet; now they want the White House and it's difficult to understand why. The salaries paid to Presidents are nowhere near that paid to radio comedians; the tenure is only four years—well, maybe eight—whereas radio comedians go on practically indefinitely. It's a mystifying aspiration, however you look at it. Maybe this indicates a rising political conscience on the part of the radio comics, but somehow I doubt it. My private explanation, a cynical one, is that the comics are jealous of the President's Hooper rating. The President's State of the Union message on the afternoon of Jan. 6 got a 20.4 Hooper, which even Hope couldn't come close to in the afternoon. The special message to Congress on St. Patrick's Day got a walloping 33.4. An audience like that would tempt any comedian, even if the job pays only a measly $75,000 a year.

As for Leap Year, I've tabulated a morbid little list of proposals and other Leap Year shenanigans on quite a few radio programs which I pass along to the girls in order that they may keep abreast of what's doing on the other shows. Well, sir, Joan Davis, who behaves Leap Yearish more or less permanently, proposed to her boy friend on the Dec. 31 program. He got away. Marlene Dietrich proposed to Ed "Archie" Gardner on the Feb. 11 program. She got away. Judy Canova, who also practices Leap Year any year, posed for a press picture armed with a bow and arrow and a gun, looking predatory. As for the younger set, Archie Andrews and his pal Jughead got in all sorts of trouble by accepting the invitations of four or five young ladies apiece to a Leap Year dance. Henry Aldrich got in a similar mixup at another Leap Year dance. The producers of the "Heart's Desire" program dredged a PFC out of Camp Lee, Va., and shipped him to a Leap Year's dance in Detroit at the behest of his seventeen-year-old girl. In a somewhat irregular twist on the Leap Year theme, Mrs. Walter O'Keefe, wife of the master of ceremonies of "Double or Nothing," took over her husband's duties on that show and was assisted by the wives of the rest of the cast. I don't know what this proves. At a Philadelphia give-away program, a woman won a live escort wrapped up in cellophane who was on exhibition during the program. That winds up the Leap Year file. If any one is looking for me, I'll be down at the Lonely Hearts Club, looking expectant.

●—●—●

A script writer named Leonard Louis Levinson informs me he has copyrighted the word "meanwhile" and the phrase "and now" and has retired on his radio royalties. Shucks, he missed several of the most popular words and phrases in business. How about "friends," "but first . . .," "chances are . . .," "nine out of ten doctors say . . .," "a recent survey showed . . .," "no other leading . . .," "you'll be amazed how . . .," or "scientific tests prove . . .."? And how about the one word no woman's program could exist without—"wonderful"—and the one phrase no ad lib program could get along without—"I think"?

Nursing Shortage Is Also Felt In India

A combination barber-midwife provides the only medical and nursing care in many villages in India today, Dr. Nand Lal Bordia, tuberculosis control officer in Indore, the largest state in central India, stated recently. Dr. Lal Bordia, who was in the United States on a fellowship, declared that the scarcity of doctors, nurses, and facilities were the major handicaps in the fighting of tuberculosis. Many small towns in the U. S. today are also suffering from an acute shortage of doctors and nurses. The Counseling and Placement Service of the American Nurses' Association is working to distribute nurses more equitably between large cities and small towns.

Time was when a comedian pined to play Hamlet; now they want the White House and it's difficult to understand why. The salaries paid to Presidents are nowhere near that paid to radio comedians; the tenure is only four years—well, maybe eight—whereas radio comedians go on practically indefinitely. It's a mystifying aspiration, however you look at it. Maybe this indicates a rising political conscience on the part of the radio comics, but somehow I doubt it. My private explanation, a cynical one, is that the comics are jealous of the President's Hooper rating. The President's State of the Union message on the afternoon of Jan. 6 got a 20.4 Hooper, which even Hope couldn't come close to in the afternoon. The special message to Congress on St. Patrick's Day got a walloping 33.4. An audience like that would tempt any comedian, even if the job pays only a measly $75,000 a year.

As for Leap Year, I've tabulated a morbid little list of proposals and other Leap Year shenanigans on quite a few radio programs which I pass along to the girls in order that they may keep abreast of what's doing on the other shows. Well, sir, Joan Davis, who behaves Leap Yearish more or less permanently, proposed to her boy friend on the Dec. 31 program. He got away. Marlene Dietrich proposed to Ed "Archie" Gardner on the Feb. 11 program. She got away. Judy Canova, who also practices Leap Year any year, posed for a press picture armed with a bow and arrow and a gun, looking predatory. As for the younger set, Archie Andrews and his pal Jughead got in all sorts of trouble by accepting the invitations of four or five young ladies apiece to a Leap Year dance. Henry Aldrich got in a similar mixup at another Leap Year dance. The producers of the "Heart's Desire" program dredged a PFC out of Camp Lee, Va., and shipped him to a Leap Year's dance in Detroit at the behest of his seventeen-year-old girl. In a somewhat irregular twist on the Leap Year theme, Mrs. Walter O'Keefe, wife of the master of ceremonies of "Double or Nothing," took over her husband's duties on that show and was assisted by the wives of the rest of the cast. I don't know what this proves. At a Philadelphia give-away program, a woman won a live escort wrapped up in cellophane who was on exhibition during the program. That winds up the Leap Year file. If any one is looking for me, I'll be down at the Lonely Hearts Club, looking expectant.

●—●—●

A script writer named Leonard Louis Levinson informs me he has copyrighted the word "meanwhile" and the phrase "and now" and has retired on his radio royalties. Shucks, he missed several of the most popular words and phrases in business. How about "friends," "but first . . .," "chances are . . .," "nine out of ten doctors say . . .," "a recent survey showed . . .," "no other leading . . .," "you'll be amazed how . . .," or "scientific tests prove . . .."? And how about the one word no woman's program could exist without—"wonderful"—and the one phrase no ad lib program could get along without—"I think"?

Nursing Shortage Is Also Felt In India

A combination barber-midwife provides the only medical and nursing care in many villages in India today, Dr. Nand Lal Bordia, tuberculosis control officer in Indore, the largest state in central India, stated recently. Dr. Lal Bordia, who was in the United States on a fellowship, declared that the scarcity of doctors, nurses, and facilities were the major handicaps in the fighting of tuberculosis. Many small towns in the U. S. today are also suffering from an acute shortage of doctors and nurses. The Counseling and Placement Service of the American Nurses' Association is working to distribute nurses more equitably between large cities and small towns.

Stocks Churn Through Most Active Market Session In Nearly A Year

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP) — Stocks today churned through the busiest session in nearly a year with individual favorites doing well while profit cashing on the recent bulge stalled many market stalwarts.

Prices turned a shade uneven after a fast opening. The ticker tape was as much as three minutes late for the first time since last May. The total of 720,000 shares in the initial hour was a top for that period since December 9, 1946.

Selling was attributed to the belief of some professionals and brokerage customers that last week's runup was a bit too fast in the light of confusing international affairs and the domestic economic picture.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .1 of a point at 63.7, a high since February 2.

International Business Machines added five points at 141 on 700 shares. Du Pont advanced 3¼ at 173¼. Ahead one to around two or better were Union Pacific at 165⅛, Goodrich 52¾, General Electric 35⅜, Allied Chemical 181, Johns-Manville 37½, Eastman Kodak 41½ and Twentieth Century-Fox 23.

Santa Fe yielded 1⅞ at 96⅜. Others giving ground included New York Central, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Electric Power and Light, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Standard Oil (N.J.) and Texas Company.

Stocks Churn Through Most Active Market Session In Nearly A Year

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP) — Stocks today churned through the busiest session in nearly a year with individual favorites doing well while profit cashing on the recent bulge stalled many market stalwarts.

Prices turned a shade uneven after a fast opening. The ticker tape was as much as three minutes late for the first time since last May. The total of 720,000 shares in the initial hour was a top for that period since December 9, 1946.

Selling was attributed to the belief of some professionals and brokerage customers that last week's runup was a bit too fast in the light of confusing international affairs and the domestic economic picture.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .1 of a point at 63.7, a high since February 2.

International Business Machines added five points at 141 on 700 shares. Du Pont advanced 3¼ at 173¼. Ahead one to around two or better were Union Pacific at 165⅛, Goodrich 52¾, General Electric 35⅝, Allied Chemical 181, Johns-Manville 37½, Eastman Kodak 41½ and Twentieth Century-Fox 23.

Santa Fe yielded 1⅞ at 96⅜. Others giving ground included New York Central, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Electric Power and Light, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Standard Oil (N.J.) and Texas Company.

B & O Furlough At Bolt, Forge Starts Friday

5-Day Layoff Due To Mine Stoppage

A total of 345 Baltimore and Ohio employes at the Bolt and Forge plant here will be furloughed for five working days, March 26, 27, 29, 30 and 31, it was announced here last night, and about 200 more are to be furloughed in the Keyser, W. Va., car yards, due to the shutdown of coal mines.

Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the Bolt and Forge, when queried about the furlough last night confirmed the report and said only skeleton crews for maintenance and emergency service will work.

H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland Division, said the furlough is due to the fact that no coal trains are being run and there is no maintenance or repair work to be done.

Wyatt said the furlough had not yet spread to the locomotive shops or round house, but if the mine stoppage is not ended soon, it is only reasonable to expect furloughs there.

"When engines and cars aren't running, there just isn't anything for the men to work on and nothing left to do but furlough," he said.

Other railroad officials said that all hauling is off, because many things are affected by a coal shortage, and business shows a marked decline. Passenger service was reduced Sunday at midnight by 25 per cent of all coal-drawn passenger trains.

At the Western Maryland Railway here, officials said no announcement has been received of a pending furlough, but a shop furlough is probable in the event of a long continuation of the mine stoppage. There has been some curtailment of work for train crews, since the line's coal movement accounts for a high percentage of its normal business. Less than 100 cars of a normal 750 daily were moved yesterday.

Ross Fined On Weapon Charge

WESTERNPORT.—O. W. Ross, Main Street extended, was fined $28.75 by Magistrate John Laughlin last night after pleading guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

A sentence of six months in the House of Correction was suspended for two years.

Chief of Police Burza Hanlin testified that on the night of March 16 Ross telephoned him from a grocery store here, stating that Vincent Clark, Stoney Run, had threatened him.

When Chief Hanlin and Officer Leonard Murphy arrived at the store, they found Ross with a .22 revolver in his hand, pointing it at the floor, the chief said.

Clark, who was in the store at that time, said he and Ross "had words." He charged Ross with concealing the revolver inside his shirt. The nature of the argument was not disclosed. Both men, who are related by marriage, are in the coal business.

Clark asked Magistrate Laughlin to be lenient with Ross, stating the latter had not pulled the gun on him.

Sergeant Lee Veeley, Route 4, Keyser, W. Va., was fined $5.75 last night after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

The charge was preferred by Trooper Thomas Barton after an accident on Route 220 near Rawlings. Veeley said he was pulling ahead of a car which had slowed down when his machine struck an oncoming automobile operated by James Broome. The owner of the latter machine, Pete Orndorff, Keyser, estimated damage at $277.91.

A Lonaconing man, William R. McIndoe, was fined $6.45 on a charge of exceeding 25 miles an hour on Georges Creek Boulevard Sunday night. Officer Murphy testified he chased McIndoe in the police cruiser from Main Srteet to a point near Franklin, adding that McIndoe was driving at 45 miles an hour.

Three Minor Accident Victims Are Treated

Memorial Hospital last night reported three emergency cases yesterday.

Earl Hoff, 722 Hilltop Drive was admitted for a hand laceration received while working at the Cumberland Steel Company.

Elsie Ross, Route 1, was treated for a fractured arm received when she fell down the steps at her home.

Detective E. R. Lilya Speaks At Ridgeley

Detective Lt. Edwin R. Lilya addressed members of the Ridgeley Lions Club last night at the regular meeting of the organization.

Lilya chose as his subject "Law Enforcement As A Profession." He traced policing from the beginning up to the present time.

Barter Players Will Return Here In New Production

The same Barter Theatre cast which presented "The Hasty Heart" at Allegany High School auditorium Saturday night to a large and enthusiastic audience, will return here, plus a number of other popular Barter Players, on April 28, to offer "John Loves Mary."

This will be the final production in a series of four plays this season sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce. The first two played to very small houses, but the Saturday night audience was the largest and indicated the interest in legitimate drama. Many people in the audience expressed surprise at the calibre of performance and the cast took four curtain calls after the end of the final act.

Members of the cast praised the Cumberland audience, and several of them declared, "This was one of the most receptive audiences we have appeared before and we are glad we are coming back for 'John Loves Mary.' Cumberlanders will like this new Broadway play, and we like to do it."

The Junior Association of Commerce, in presenting the Barter Theatre Players here, did so in an effort to bring to Cumberland top-flight theatre performances, and members of the Jaycees said yesterday, "Saturday's audience indicates there are enough people here interested to support productions of this kind. Plans are being considered to book the Barter Players for a series next winter.

Following the presentation of "John Loves Mary" next April 28, the Barter Players return to Abingdon, Va., for their annual summer theatre appearances through June, July and August.

Tickets for "John Loves Mary" will go on sale next week, according to Jack Moore, chairman for the Jaycees production committee.

Veterans Asked To Give Information On Dependents For New Allowances

Veterans with more than one dependent who are attending school full time must furnish Veterans Administration with information about their additional dependents in order to receive the monthly subsistence allowance authorized recently by Congress, according to W. L. Limburg, regional manager of the Veterans Administration in Maryland.

Monthly allowances will be boosted April 1 to $75 for a veteran without dependents; to $105 for those with one dependent, and to $120 for those with more than one dependent. The rate has been $65 for a single veteran or $90 for a veteran with dependents, regardless of the number.

Eligible veterans now in school, who are entitled to $75 or $105 under the new rates, will not have to apply for the increased allowances. Existing applications will supply all the information needed to pay these new benefits. Therefore, these veterans need not write VA concerning their increases.

For a veteran with dependent children to qualify for the $120 allowance, he must furnish VA with photostats or certified copies of their birth certificates. In the case of dependent parents, evidence of actual dependency must be submitted.

If veterans now in training submit evidency of dependency prior to July 1, 1948, they will receive retroactive payments at the new rates back to April 1, 1948.

The higher rates are applicable to periods of training on and after April 1. However, since subsistence checks are not due until the end of the month in which the veteran is in training, it will be May 1 before the higher rates are reflected in checks received by veterans.

The increase will apply only to veterans attending schools, colleges or universities full time. On-the-job trainees and those attending school part time will continue to receive allowances based on the present rate.

Police Probe Two Worthless Checks Passed In City

Cashed In Liquor Store, Radio Shop

The results of a "bad check artist's" visit to Cumberland Saturday began to show up at police headquarters yesterday where two worthless checks, each for $37.85, were turned over to authorities for investigation.

Detective Thomas J. See said the checks were made payable to Harry Miller and signed by W. E. Johnson and were marked "payment for labor."

One of the checks was cashed in a local liquor store, according to police, who said the man, described as "about 200 pounds in weight," made the purchase of several quarts of liquor and then inquired about the closing time.

Informed that the store closed at 11 p. m., the unidentified man told the clerk he would like to leave the purchase at the store until he did some other shopping. Police were told that he did not return.

The check accepted at the liquor store was drawn on the Second National Bank, where the store proprietor was informed yesterday morning that no account exsisted.

The second check, which Detective See said was cashed at a local radio shop, was drawn on the Liberty Trust Company and a similar report was received yesterday morning.

Writing on the two checks appears similar, police explained, adding that it is likely others were passed in the city Saturday morning and afternoon.

A local detective agency is also investigating one of the worthless checks, and an agent declared the writing and system of cashing the check is similiar to work of a man who appeared in the city about a year ago.

Police said the only description they have of the man besides his weight is the fact that he was dressed in a checkered wool shirt.

Deputy Marshal's Office Is Closed

After being in operation for approximately 56 years, Cumberland is without a United States Marshal's office.

Howard P. Loughrie, deputy U. S. marshal in Cumberland since August 1933, has been transferred to Baltimore and the local office in the Post Office Building has been closed.

According to authorities, the office will be used only when it involves cases in the northern section of the state, at which time Loughrie will be sent into this territory.

As for moving to Baltimore, the deputy marshal says he doesn't contemplate moving, at least not in the immediate future.

Banks, State Offices Will Close Two Days

Cumberland banks and various state offices here will be closed Thursday and Friday of this week, but will be open Saturday.

Trial Magistrates Court, Police Court, Juvenile Court, Register of Wills Office, County Farm Agent's office, District Forester's office and other state bureaus and institutions here will be closed for the dual holiday.

Because of the double closing, however, banks announced yesterday they will be open for half a day Saturday because otherwise the city would be without banking service from Wednesday until Monday.

Ridgeley Policeman Resigns Due To Town's Shortage Of Housing

Alva Diehl Buys Home Outside Local Limits

Due to the housing shortage in Ridgeley, W. Va., and the fact that he had to go to Short Gap to buy a suitable place in which to live, Patrolman Alva Diehl of the Ridgeley town police force, presented his resignation on the occasion of his 50th birthday Sunday, to Mayor Frank B. Magruder.

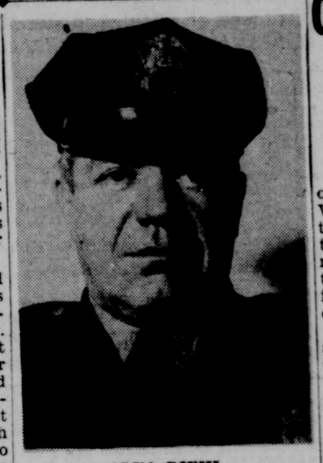

Diehl, a veteran of both World Wars, and popularly known as "Sarge" Diehl, asked that the resignation become effective April 1.

Diehl said last night he cannot serve the town as police officer when he does not live in town and explained he has purchased a cottage and small piece of ground at Short Gap where he will live with his wife and step-son. He plans to do some carpentry and maintenance work, he said.

The well-known patrolman has been on the Ridgeley force about a year, and has lived all his life in Ridgeley, except for 27 years spent in the Army and Marine Corps. He enlisted in the Army May 3, 1916, and served in France and Germany during World War I. He served several peacetime enlistments in the Army and one "hitch" in the Marine Corps. During World War II he saw service in North Africa. He was discharged with an Army pension March 30, 1945.

Diehl is an active member of Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, and also a member of Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars here.

William Dailey, town clerk, said last night that Diehl's resignation is to be accepted, and that applications for appointment as his successor may be filed with either the town clerk or Mayor Magruder.

Mercury Again Climbs To Point Above Normal

Rains Expected To Break Warm Weather

For the third successive day mercury climbed to above normal readings for this time of the year and reached a maximum of 72 above here yesterday.

This was 14 below Sunday's high of 86, which was near the all time March record. On March 18, 1907, a reading of 90 above was reported in Cumberland.

Although the weather was warm for March here, Cumberland seemed to be the comparatively cool spot in the state. Baltimore, which registered 83 in the late afternoon, was the hot spot. An 82 was recorded at Annapolis and mercury hit 80 at Frederick.

Temperatures in Washington soared to 84, but throughout most of Maryland generally averaged four to five degrees below those of Palm Sunday.

Cooling rains are expected to knock the temperatures back to the sixties today, and the Weather Bureau predicts more seasonable weather will prevail Wednesday.

When the weather turns suddenly warm in early spring, more people seek the wide open places, William Parr, district forester, said yesterday, and the result so far as his work is concerned is not good. This usually means some careless people among the multitudes, he explained, and forest fires result.

In Maryland Sunday there were 10 forest fires, generally due to smokers or those who left camp and picnic fires burning. H. C. Buckingham, state forester, warned that people should exercise unusual caution now because the woods are dry and fires this time of the year are especially destructive.

At Constitution Park, Robert R. Golden, park supervisor, said he has run into a bad problem or two. Numerous children have been pulling out shrubs and flowers and generally making themselves destructive, and last night some older boys were breaking lights. These are signs of spring, he commented, but "they should know better than to destroy property."

Minimum temperature here yesterday was 63, with 64 reported at 8 a. m. At 10 p. m. mercury stood at 65.

Local UMW Head Attends Session On Coal Stoppage

Jones Represents Lewis At Conciliation

John T. Jones, this city, president of District No. 16, United Mine Workers of America, was one of three union representatives to attend the government's conciliation meeting with eight soft coal operators yesterday in Washington, D. C., in an effort to end the eight-day coal mine shutdown.

Lewis failed to put in an appearance but sent Jones, John Owens, Columbus, O., UMW secretary-treasurer; and W. A. (Tony) Boyle, president of District No. 27. Jones is in charge of the collections for the miners' $30,000,000 retirement and welfare fund.

The eight operators invited were present and held a conference with government conciliator Director Curus Ching before going into the joint meeting.

When Lewis failed to appear, there were indications that the operators would not discuss the shutdown or the dispute directly with the Mine Workers Committee.

Saturday, the operators said they want to talk over the dispute over pension payments with Lewis, but not until he puts his 400,000 miners back to work.

In the meantime, practically all mines in the 10 soft coal states are idle, and local railroad officials said last night the shutdown in this area became almost 100 per cent yesterday. In nearby coal fields of West Virginia, pickets appeared in several places where some men were working, and the mines were closed. Coal shipments are down to a minimum, with only a few score cars of coal being moved.

Miners in the Upper Potomac and Georges Creek Regions have indicated they will stay away from the pits until they are given the green light by Lewis, although many miners indicate they would rather be at work than idle.

One miner commented yesterday, "It's too early to make garden, and trout season doesn't open until April 1, despite some newspaper writer's statement that 'idle miners were making garden and fishing.'"

Miltenberger Heads 4-H Dairy Calf Club

Fred Miltenberger was elected president of the Allegany County 4-H Dairy Calf Club last night in the office of the county farm agent, Court House, according to Joseph M. Steger, assistant agent.

Dale Harvey, Frostburg, was chosen vice president and James Greise, Mason Road, was elected secretary.

Steger said plans were discussed for a spring banquet and also for the annual dairy calf judging competition.

The club, heretofore open to farm boys, is now open to farm girls as well. Steger said there are some 4-H girls in the county who have expressed an interest in learning more about dairy farming and want to raise their own dairy calves.

An effort is to be made to enlarge the club and encourage more county farm boys and girls to obtain a thoroughbred dairy calf and raise it. Steger said those who join the club will be assisted in procuring Jerseys and Holsteins, and will get the co-operation of the club and his office in raising the animals.

Dorothy Maynor's Fame As Singer Result Of Planned "Coincidence"

Dorothy Maynor, famed negro singer, who will appear at Fort Hill High School April 1, became famous because her many girlhood friends and admirers arranged a "coincidence" for her in 1939.

The "coincidence" was her appearance at the Berkshire Music Festival in 1939, where she was introduced by Serge Koussevitzky, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Music was a part of Miss Maynor's life from earliest childhood, her friends told Koussevitzky, who listened to her "promising voice" one afternoon shortly before the music festival.

In spite of the acclaim which followed her debut and her subsequent engagements with the New York Philharmonic, Chicago, Philadelphia and Cleveland orchestras, Miss Maynor took her art, but not herself, seriously.

During the five years between 1939 and 1945, Miss Maynor made six transcontinental tours, with an aggregate of 350 concerts. She acquired a repertoire of more than 300 songs.

Millions of persons in this country and abroad have heard her voice, acclaimed as "one of the loveliest in the world," through radio broadcasts. Too, her songs are recorded and many are permanently preserved in record libaies.

Miss Maynor sang at the Library of Congress to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the the passage of the 13th Amendment to the Constitution. As soloist at the 50th anniversary of YWCA in November, 1944, she became the first woman to sing in the Washington Cathedral.

Miss Maynor will appear at Fort Hill High School through the efforts of the Carver High School committee, which has arranged for the appearance of many famous negro artists in Cumberland.

B & O Furlough At Bolt, Forge Starts Friday

5-Day Layoff Due To Mine Stoppage

A total of 345 Baltimore and Ohio employes at the Bolt and Forge plant here will be furloughed for five working days, March 26, 27, 29, 30 and 31, it was announced here last night, and about 200 more are to be furloughed in the Keyser, W. Va., car yards, due to the shutdown of coal mines.

Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the Bolt and Forge, when queried about the furlough last night confirmed the report and said only skeleton crews for maintenance and emergency service will work.

H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland Division, said the furlough is due to the fact that no coal trains are being run and there is no maintenance or repair work to be done.

Wyatt said the furlough had not yet spread to the locomotive shops or round house, but if the mine stoppage is not ended soon, it is only reasonable to expect furloughs there.

"When engines and cars aren't running, there just isn't anything for the men to work on and nothing left to do but furlough," he said.

Other railroad officials said that all hauling is off, because many things are affected by a coal shortage, and business shows a marked decline. Passenger service was reduced Sunday at midnight by 25 per cent of all coal-drawn passenger trains.

At the Western Maryland Railway here, officials said no announcement has been received of a pending furlough, but a shop furlough is probable in the event of a long continuation of the mine stoppage. There has been some curtailment of work for train crews, since the line's coal movement accounts for a high percentage of its normal business. Less than 100 cars of a normal 750 daily were moved yesterday.

Ross Fined On Weapon Charge

WESTERNPORT.—O. W. Ross, Main Street extended, was fined $28.75 by Magistrate John Laughlin last night after pleading guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

A sentence of six months in the House of Correction was suspended for two years.

Chief of Police Burza Hanlin testified that on the night of March 16 Ross telephoned him from a grocery store here, stating that Vincent Clark, Stoney Run, had threatened him.

When Chief Hanlin and Officer Leonard Murphy arrived at the store, they found Ross with a .22 revolver in his hand, pointing it at the floor, the chief said.

Clark, who was in the store at that time, said he and Ross "had words." He charged Ross with concealing the revolver inside his shirt. The nature of the argument was not disclosed. Both men, who are related by marriage, are in the coal business.

Clark asked Magistrate Laughlin to be lenient with Ross, stating the latter had not pulled the gun on him.

Sergeant Lee Veeley, Route 4, Keyser, W. Va., was fined $5.75 last night after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

The charge was preferred by Trooper Thomas Barton after an accident on Route 220 near Rawlings. Veeley said he was pulling ahead of a car which had slowed down when his machine struck an oncoming automobile operated by James Broome. The owner of the latter machine, Pete Orndorff, Keyser, estimated damage at $277.91.

A Lonaconing man, William R. McIndoe, was fined $6.45 on a charge of exceeding 25 miles an hour on Georges Creek Boulevard Sunday night. Officer Murphy testified he chased McIndoe in the police cruiser from Main Srteet to a point near Franklin, adding that McIndoe was driving at 45 miles an hour.

Barter Players Will Return Here In New Production

The same Barter Theatre cast which presented "The Hasty Heart" at Allegany High School auditorium Saturday night to a large and enthusiastic audience, will return here, plus a number of other popular Barter Players, on April 28, to offer "John Loves Mary."

This will be the final production in a series of four plays this season sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce. The first two played to very small houses, but the Saturday night audience was the largest and indicated the interest in legitimate drama. Many people in the audience expressed surprise at the calibre of performance and the cast took four curtain calls after the end of the final act.

Members of the cast praised the Cumberland audience, and several of them declared, "This was one of the most receptive audiences we have appeared before and we are glad we are coming back for 'John Loves Mary.' Cumberlanders will like this new Broadway play, and we like to do it."

The Junior Association of Commerce, in presenting the Barter Theatre Players here, did so in an effort to bring to Cumberland top-flight theatre performances, and members of the Jaycees said yesterday, "Saturday's audience indicates there are enough people here interested to support productions of this kind. Plans are being considered to book the Barter Players for a series next winter.

Following the presentation of "John Loves Mary" next April 28, the Barter Players return to Abington, Va., for their annual summer theatre appearances through June, July and August.

Tickets for "John Loves Mary" will go on sale next week, according to Jack Moore, chairman for the Jaycees production committee.

Veterans Asked To Give Information On Dependents For New Allowances

Veterans with more than one dependent who are attending school full time must furnish Veterans Administration with information about their additional dependents in order to receive the monthly subsistence allowance authorized recently by Congress, according to W. L. Limburg, regional manager of the Veterans Administration in Maryland.

Monthly allowances will be boosted April 1 to $75 for a veteran without dependents; to $105 for those with one dependent, and to $120 for those with more than one dependent. The rate has been $65 for a single veteran or $90 for a veteran with dependents, regardless of the number.

Eligible veterans now in school, who are entitled to $75 or $105 under the new rates, will not have to apply for the increased allowances. Existing applications will supply all the information needed to pay these new benefits. Therefore, these veterans need not write VA concerning their increases.

For a veteran with dependent children to qualify for the $120 allowance, he must furnish VA with photostats or certified copies of their birth certificates. In the case of dependent parents, evidence of actual dependency must be submitted.

If veterans now in training submit evidency of dependency prior to July 1, 1948, they will receive retroactive payments at the new rates back to April 1, 1948.

The higher rates are applicable to periods of training on and after April 1. However, since subsistence checks are not due until the end of the month in which the veteran is in training, it will be May 1 before the higher rates are reflected in checks received by veterans.

The increase will apply only to veterans attending schools, colleges or universities full time. On-the-job trainees and those attending school part time will continue to receive allowances based on the present rate.

Police Probe Two Worthless Checks Passed In City

Cashed In Liquor Store, Radio Shop

The results of a "bad check artist's" visit to Cumberland Saturday began to show up at police headquarters yesterday where two worthless checks, each for $37.85, were turned over to authorities for investigation.

Detective Thomas J. See said the checks were made payable to Harry Miller and signed by W. E. Johnson and were marked "payment for labor."

One of the checks was cashed in a local liquor store, according to police, who said the man, described as "about 200 pounds in weight," made the purchase of several quarts of liquor and then inquired about the closing time.

Informed that the store closed at 11 p. m., the unidentified man told the clerk he would like to leave the purchase at the store until he did some other shopping. Police were told that he did not return.

The check accepted at the liquor store was drawn on the Second National Bank, where the store proprietor was informed yesterday morning that no account exsisted.

The second check, which Detective See said was cashed at a local radio shop, was drawn on the Liberty Trust Company and a similar report was received yesterday morning.

Writing on the two checks appears similar, police explained, adding that it is likely others were passed in the city Saturday morning and afternoon.

A local detective agency is also investigating one of the worthless checks, and an agent declared the writing and system of cashing the check is similiar to work of a man who appeared in the city about a year ago.

Police said the only description they have of the man besides his weight is the fact that he was dressed in a checkered wool shirt.

Deputy Marshal's Office Is Closed

After being in operation for approximately 56 years, Cumberland is without a United States Marshal's office.

According to authorities, the office will be used only when it involves cases in the northern section of the state, at which time Loughrie will be sent into this territory.

As for moving to Baltimore, the deputy marshal says he doesn't contemplate moving, at least not in the immediate future.

Ridgeley Policeman Resigns Due To Town's Shortage Of Housing

Alva Diehl Buys Home Outside Local Limits

Due to the housing shortage in Ridgeley, W. Va., and the fact that he had to go to Short Gap to buy a suitable place in which to live, Patrolman Alva Diehl of the Ridgeley town police force, presented his resignation on the occasion of his 50th birthday Sunday, to Mayor Frank B. Magruder.

Diehl, a veteran of both World Wars, and popularly known as "Sarge" Diehl, asked that the resignation become effective April 1.

Diehl said last night he cannot serve the town as police officer when he does not live in town and explained he has purchased a cottage and small piece of ground at Short Gap where he will live with his wife and step-son. He plans to do some carpentry and maintenance work, he said.

The well-known patrolman has been on the Ridgeley force about a year, and has lived all his life in Ridgeley, except for 27 years spent in the Army and Marine Corps. He enlisted in the Army May 3, 1916, and served in France and Germany during World War I. He served several peacetime enlistments in the Army and one "hitch" in the Marine Corps. During World War II he saw service in North Africa. He was discharged with an Army pension March 30, 1945.

Diehl is an active member of Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, and also a member of Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars here.

William Dailey, town clerk, said last night that Diehl's resignation is to be accepted, and that applications for appointment as his successor may be filed with either the town clerk or Mayor Magruder.

Mercury Again Climbs To Point Above Normal

Rains Expected To Break Warm Weather

For the third successive day mercury climbed to above normal readings for this time of the year and reached a maximum of 72 above here yesterday.

This was 14 below Sunday's high of 86, which was near the all time March record. On March 18, 1907, a reading of 90 above was reported in Cumberland.

Although the weather was warm for March here, Cumberland seemed to be the comparatively cool spot in the state. Baltimore, which registered 83 in the late afternoon, was the hot spot. An 82 was recorded at Annapolis and mercury hit 80 at Frederick.

Temperatures in Washington soared to 84, but throughout most of Maryland generally averaged four to five degrees below those of Palm Sunday.

Cooling rains are expected to knock the temperatures back to the sixties today, and the Weather Bureau predicts more seasonable weather will prevail Wednesday.

When the weather turns suddenly warm in early spring, more people seek the wide open places, William Parr, district forester, said yesterday, and the result so far as his work is concerned is not good. This usually means some careless people among the multitudes, he explained, and forest fires result.

In Maryland Sunday there were 10 forest fires, generally due to smokers or those who left camp and picnic fires burning. H. C. Buckingham, state forester, warned that people should exercise unusual caution now because the woods are dry and fires this time of the year are especially destructive.

At Constitution Park, Robert R. Golden, park supervisor, said he has run into a bad problem or two. Numerous children have been pulling out shrubs and flowers and generally making themselves destructive, and last night some older boys were breaking lights. These are signs of spring, he commented, but "they should know better than to destroy property."

Minimum temperature here yesterday was 63, with 64 reported at 8 a. m. At 10 p. m. mercury stood at 65.

Dorothy Maynor's Fame As Singer Result Of Planned "Coincidence"

Dorothy Maynor, famed negro singer, who will appear at Fort Hill High School April 1, became famous because her many girlhood friends and admirers arranged a "coincidence" for her in 1939.

The "coincidence" was her appearance at the Berkshire Music Festival in 1939, where she was introduced by Serge Koussevitzky, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Music was a part of Miss Maynor's life from earliest childhood, her friends told Koussevitzky, who listened to her "promising voice" one afternoon shortly before the music festival.

In spite of the acclaim which followed her debut and her subsequent engagements with the New York Philharmonic, Chicago, Philadelphia and Cleveland orchestras, Miss Maynor took her art, but not herself, seriously.

During the five years between 1939 and 1945, Miss Maynor made six transcontinental tours, with an aggregate of 350 concerts. She acquired a repertoire of more than 300 songs.

Millions of persons in this country and abroad have heard her voice, acclaimed as "one of the loveliest in the world," through radio broadcasts. Too, her songs are recorded and many are permanently preserved in record libales.

Miss Maynor sang at the Library of Congress to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the the passage of the 13th Amendment to the Constitution. As soloist at the 50th anniversary of YWCA in November, 1944, she became the first woman to sing in the Washington Cathedral.

Miss Maynor will appear at Fort Hill High School through the efforts of the Carver High School committee, which has arranged for the appearance of many famous negro artists in Cumberland.

Local UMW Head Attends Session On Coal Stoppage

Jones Represents Lewis At Conciliation

John T. Jones, this city, president of District No. 16, United Mine Workers of America, was one of three union representatives to attend the government's conciliation meeting with eight soft coal operators yesterday in Washington, D. C., in an effort to end the eight-day coal mine shutdown.

Lewis failed to put in an appearance but sent Jones, John Owens, Columbus, O., UMW secretary-treasurer; and W. A. (Tony) Boyle, president of District No. 27. Jones is in charge of the collections for the miners' $30,000,000 retirement and welfare fund.

The eight operators invited were present and held a conference with government conciliator Director Curus Ching before going into the joint meeting.

When Lewis failed to appear, there were indications that the operators would not discuss the shutdown or the dispute directly with the Mine Workers Committee.

Saturday, the operators said they want to talk over the dispute over pension payments with Lewis, but not until he puts his 400,000 miners back to work.

In the meantime, practically all mines in the 10 soft coal states are idle, and local railroad officials said last night the shutdown in this area became almost 100 per cent yesterday. In nearby coal fields of West Virginia, pickets appeared in several places where some men were working, and the mines were closed. Coal shipments are down to a minimum, with only a few score cars of coal being moved.

Miners in the Upper Potomac and Georges Creek Regions have indicated they will stay away from the pits until they are given the green light by Lewis, although many miners indicate they would rather be at work than idle.

One miner commented yesterday, "It's too early to make garden, and trout season doesn't open until April 1, despite some newspaper writer's statement that 'idle miners were making garden and fishing.' "

Miltenberger Heads 4-H Dairy Calf Club

Fred Miltenberger was elected president of the Allegany County 4-H Dairy Calf Club last night in the office of the county farm agent, Court House, according to Joseph M. Steger, assistant agent.

Dale Harvey, Frostburg, was chosen vice president and James Greise, Mason Road, was elected secretary.

Steger said plans were discussed for a spring banquet and also for the annual dairy calf judging competition.

The club, heretofore open to farm boys, is now open to farm girls as well. Steger said there are some 4-H girls in the county who have expressed an interest in learning more about dairy farming and want to raise their own dairy calves.

An effort is to be made to enlarge the club and encourage more county farm boys and girls to obtain a thoroughbred dairy calf and raise it. Steger said those who join the club will be assisted in procuring Jerseys and Holsteins, and will get the co-operation of the club and his office in raising the animals.
